VICTORIA WELCOMES THE GOOD ROADS ADVOCATES

Interest Continues to Centre in the New Commons Situation

Effect of Budget Vote at Ottawa To-morrow Evening Subject of Speculation; Majority of M.P.'s Are Averse to General Election.

Ottawa, June 12.—(Canadian Press)—Rumors of a general election in September as an outcome of the present political situation are current to-day. But although the possibility of a dissolution of Parliament is widely discussed, the rumors bear no official authority. There seems to be little doubt that the Conservatives as a body and the Progressives, with the possible exception of three or four, will vote against the Government on the main budget motion. Speculation, nevertheless, is keen as to what the promised budget modifications will contain and whether or not they are likely to affect to-morrow's critical vote.

Dissolution of Parliament is understood to be favored by the Liberal wing, which sees in such a step a way out of the present difficulties. They claim that the Government would come back with a safe working majority over both Opposition parties. They point to Ontario as being again the chief battleground in the event of an election and believe they would capture seats in that province both from Progressives and Conservatives.

On the other hand, a dissolution of Parliament at the present juncture finds no general support among the members. The Liberals as a whole are not desirous of dissolution after only one session. Progressives and Conservatives also do not like the idea, although there is considerable comment on the statement attributed to R. H. Halbert, Progressive, North Ontario, at the Russell County picnic on Saturday, that Progressives intend to force the Government to change the budget "even if it takes an election to do it."

Progressives generally, however, would prefer to defer another appeal to the people at any rate till after the redistribution bill is brought down next session and the prairie provinces secure a wider representation in the House.

Uncertain.

The present situation is admitted on all hands to be crucial. Old parliamentary hands dismiss it with the comment that anything may happen.

AEROPLANE FLIGHT ACROSS NORTH POLE

Daring Plan Made by Captain Amundsen

Hopes to Make Landing at North Pole

Seattle, June 12.—(Associated Press)—Haakon Hammer, honorary member of the Amundsen Polar Basin Scientific Expedition and personal representative of Capt. Amundsen, to-day confirmed reports that Capt. Roald Amundsen will attempt an aeroplane flight across the North Pole.

Captain Amundsen will be accompanied on his perilous journey by only two companions, Lieut. E. G. Fullerton, formerly Canadian army aviator, and Lieut. Oscar Omdal, of the Norwegian army.

The plane will carry gasoline sufficient for a twenty-six-hour trip, and the aviators will have for food only sandwiches, a few ounces of concentrated food and a vacuum bottle filled with tea.

Plans completed by Capt. Amundsen here two months ago in consultation with Mr. Hammer call for a stop at the North Pole if the ice is smooth and weather conditions favorable, Mr. Hammer said. Otherwise the plane, starting from North of Alaska, will pass over the top of the world and head straight for Spitzbergen or Grant Land. From the final jumping off place they will make their way to civilization, to return to Seattle next year for a flight to Capt. Amundsen's exploration ship, the Maud, which by that time will be locked in the Polar ice floes far North of the coast of Alaska.

Daring Effort.

If Capt. Amundsen's plans are carried out, the attempted flight will take rank as one of the most daring efforts in the history of Arctic exploration. Years ago Andre, a Swedish explorer, attempted to drift across the Polar basin in a balloon, well stocked with food for a long journey. The effort failed.

The Amundsen plane, with only enough gasoline to last twenty-six hours, must make a flight of nearly 1,600 miles in that time. Mr. Hammer estimated that with favorable conditions the flight to Grant Land could be made in twenty hours, leaving a six-hour margin of safety.

Ship to Drift.

The explorer left here a week ago Sunday for Nome, Alaska, where he will join the Maud, which sailed a week ago Saturday for Nome. By the first of July, it was expected, the Maud would be headed out into Behring Sea for the Arctic ice pack. The expedition will drift with the pack, Capt. Amundsen hoping that his ship will be able to drift past the North Pole and reach Spitzbergen in five years. Extensive scientific observations will be taken, including a study of meteorological and oceanographical conditions in the vast unexplored region about the Pole, and an investigation will be made to determine whether land exists in that vicinity, as some oceanographers maintain.

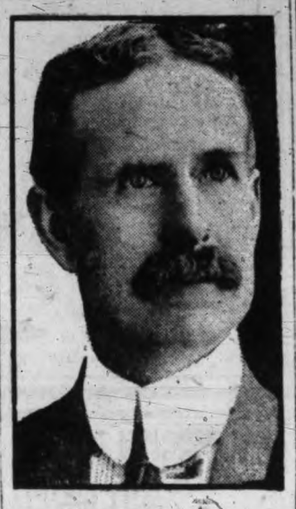

Lieut. E. G. Fullerton was employed as a pilot navigator at the British Columbia Air Station at Jericho Beach until recently, and is well known in British Columbia flying circles. He has a distinguished war record for gallant service in the Royal Air Force, and is a member of the Canadian (Militia) Air Force.

LIQUOR STORE AT CUMBERLAND WAS VISITED BY THIEVES

Courtenay, June 12.—Thieves broke into the Government liquor store at Cumberland Saturday night, and got away with what is estimated to be $400 worth of liquor. The occurence has made a good deal of stir in the coal centre.

DR. P. E. DOOLITTLE.

TRANS-CANADA HIGHWAY URGED

Needed for Commerce, Tourists and Defence, Says Doolittle

Roads Greatest Factor in Developing Country, He Asserts

Canada needs a transcontinental highway for commerce, for tourists and for military protection, Dr. P. E. Doolittle, President of the Canadian Automobile Association, told delegates to the Canadian Good Roads Association convention at a luncheon in the Empress Hotel at noon to-day.

"People call the trans-Canada highway scheme a dream," Dr. Doolittle remarked. "Well, Columbus was a dreamer—the craziest man in Europe. Champlain was another crazy dreamer. Likewise the men who built the Canadian Pacific Railway. But one of them discovered this continent, the other opened up the Great Lake country and the others joined the East and the West.

"Some will protest that we have wasted $50,000,000 in experimenting with roads. But how much have we wasted experimenting with railroads? Just look at our railway deficits today. We spent $2,000,000,000 on the war. Surely we can spend a few millions finding out the best way to build roads which are our greatest national asset. Besides, every successful enterprise must set aside money for experiments. We have to pay for our experience, our knowledge.

Not Aiming Too High.

"When I speak of a trans-Canada highway, don't think I mean a concrete road from coast to coast. I mean a road which would be known

LI YUAN CHANG IS CHINESE PRESIDENT

Takes Over Duties of Chief Post of Republic

Gen. Wu's and Gen. Chang's Forces Fighting

Peking, June 11.—Li Yuan Chang, the President deposed by the militarists in 1917, arrived in Peking to-day and assumed the presidency. Li came from Tientsin in answer to an invitation to succeed Szu Shih Chan, resigned.

A Battle.

Tientsin, June 12.—General Chang Tso Lin's proposals for an armistice with Wu Pei Fu appear to have been simply a ruse to gain time for the defeated Manchurian war lord. Heavy fighting broke out Friday between Chinwangtao and Shanhaikawan. The battle has been raging steadily for the past three days.

This morning Chang's Fengtien forces launched a violent drive against the right flank of the Chihli army, resting on the sea at the mouth of the Gulf of Liaotung. Wu's battle line held fast, however, and the Fengtien assault was repulsed. Two carloads of wounded are expected to arrive in Tientsin from the front to-night.

British Troops Delayed.

"Coke's Rifles, a British Indian regiment, which left here Friday for Shanhaikawan, to protect foreign interests there, has been held up at Chinwangtao owing to fresh outbreaks of fighting.

General Wu Pei Fu has ordered his third division, the chief unit of his army and considered the best trained fighting unit in China, to leave its base at Tangku to-day for the front.

BUSINESS MAN MURDERED IN BELFAST OFFICE

Belfast, June 12.—Edward Devine, managing director of a bakery concern in Belfast, was shot and killed to-day in the firm's office.

Three men forced entrance to the office and shouted "Hands up." Devine rushed at them, whereupon they killed him.

CHURCHILL DEFERS IRISH STATEMENT

To Address British House Tuesday or Thursday

London Paper Says Constitution Put in Shape

London, June 12. — Winston Churchill, the Colonial Secretary, announced in the House of Commons this afternoon that it would be more convenient and in the general public interest if he deferred his statement on Ireland, which it had been expected he would deliver to-day, until Tuesday, or possibly Thursday.

Constitution.

London, June 12.—The articles of the new Irish constitution have been revised so satisfactorily, The Evening Star asserts to-day, that Arthur Griffith will return to Dublin with them to-night. It adds that Colonial Secretary Churchill may postpone his statement in the House of Commons until to-morrow, so that announcement of the agreement may be made simultaneously in London and Dublin.

Collins and Valera.

The whole six points raised by the British signatories to the Anglo-Irish Treaty in connection with the framing of the constitution have been adjusted, the newspaper declares, and the problem of the immediate future is a settlement between Michael Collins and Eamon de Valera.

The adjustment, the newspaper adds, is believed to be largely due to the skill and dexterity of Lord Hewart, the Lord Chief Justice, who has been playing a prominent part in the negotiations here.

FATTY ARBUCKLE IN SECLUSION ON VANCOUVER ISLAND?

(By Times Special Correspondent)

Courtenay, B. C., June 12.—Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle, who faded from public limelight after his final acquittal of the charge in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe, has been located here. He is said to be seeking seclusion in the wooded fastnesses of Vancouver Island, near Campbell River, where trout fishing is a diverting pastime.

Arbuckle is believed to have reached the Island from the mainland on Friday.

FIVE NATIONALISTS IN SOUTH AFRICA WERE ARRESTED

London, June 12.—(Canadian Press Cable)—As the result of evidence given before special treason courts, which were established as an outcome of the Johannesburg revolt, five prominent Nationalists have been arrested under the common law charged with high treason, according to a Reuter dispatch from Pretoria. They include Editor Cost, of the Dutch paper Vaderland; General Pienaar and Mr. Moll, the last named being a member of the Transvaal Provincial Council and secretary of the Transvaal Nationalist Party.

Chinese Boys Vainly Sacrifice Themselves to Save Companion

The Victims.

Lee Gee Shew, 10 years of age, 555 Cormorant Street.
Wong Quon Wai, 15 years of age, 555 Fisgard Street.
Nip Lung Poi, 16 years of age, 544 Fisgard Street.

One of the most pathetic drowning fatalities that has occurred here in some years took place at three o'clock yesterday afternoon when three members of a party of six Chinese boys bathing in the harbor off the Cholberg Shipyards were drowned.

The party, all school boys, had gone to the rocks just south of the two wooden hulls at the shipyards and prepared to enter the water. They undressed on the rocks and Wong Quon Wai entered the water first. In a little while his companions noticed that Wai was in difficulties, and Lee Gee Shew rushed to his aid. The two boys sank together before Nip Lung Poi could reach the scene. Nip Lung Poi made a desperate attempt to untangle the struggling boys and bring them to the shore, but becoming exhausted he failed, all three drowning together in the kelp strewn water.

Three Companions on Land

The triple fatality took place under the eyes of Yuon Wing Hong, 1618 Douglas Street; Mae Gim Ark, Fisgard Street, and Jung Yan Wing, 64 Bay Street.

For some time no aid came to the scene, but one of the boys ran for help. Sergeant Boulton heard of the tragedy and turned in an alarm to the station. Chief Fry, with a posse, responded in the patrol, bringing grappling irons.

Operations were carried out continuously for some hours. Darkness stayed the search until this morning, when the bodies of Nip Lung Poi and Lee Gee Shew were discovered at 10 o'clock and that of Wong Quon Wai one hour later. All three bodies had been drawn by the grapples into shallow water nearer the shore and were found in about five feet of water.

Nip Lung Poi was a student of the Central School.

Coroner E. C. Hart was notified and ordered the bodies removed to Thomson's Funeral Home, where an inquest will be held at eleven o'clock to-morrow.

RAILWAY STRIKE REPORT DENIED

Americans Would Not Direct Efforts from Canada

Chicago, June 12.—While additional wage cuts swung over the heads of 350,000 more railway employees awaited only formal release by the United States Railroad Labor Board to slash another $40,000,000 from the payrolls of the carriers, it was rumored to-day that any rail strike growing out of present threats might be directed and financed from Canada as a means of evading the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court holding unions liable for damages caused by their members.

Leaders of the rail unions said to be contemplating the move viewed the establishment of the Canadian headquarters as legitimate in view of conditions caused by the Supreme Court opinion because the unions are international organizations. Financial penalties in case of a walkout could thus be averted, it was said.

The expected new wage reduction order will increase the total cut from railway workers' wages to approximately $150,000,000 a year. Clerks, signalmen, stationary firemen, oilers, and marine department employees will join the shopmen and maintenance of way employees as victims of the slash.

A Denial.

Cincinnati, Ohio, June 12.—B. M. Jewell, head of the Railway Employees' Department of the American Federation of Labor, denied to-day that the railway shopcrafts unions had under consideration a plan to move their headquarters from Chicago to Canada to escape any suits brought against them under the Coronado decision recently handed down by the United States Supreme Court.

"We have no such move under consideration and I have heard no talk among our leaders of doing such a thing," Mr. Jewell said.

"We are not running away from any fight. We are not seeking a fight, but if we are forced into one we will battle to the last ditch."

CHURCH REPORTS ARE DISCUSSED

Presbyterian General Assembly Continues at Winnipeg

Quebec Probably Will Have 1923 Meeting

Winnipeg, June 12.—(Canadian Press)—Discussion of the House and Foreign Missions reports and the presentation of the reports of the Board of Publications and the General Board occupied this morning's session of the Presbyterian General Assembly in St. Stephen's Church. The Assembly is expected to finish its deliberations on Tuesday night.

The only other matter of importance with which the Assembly has yet to deal is the report of the Educational Committee, whose report will not be completed until to-morrow.

The report of the Board of Publications was presented by Murdock McKinnon, of Regina, and was adopted without discussion. The report recommended the continuation of cooperation with the Methodist Church in the matter of publications.

Missions.

The commissioners then proceeded to discuss the mission reports which had been presented at previous sessions.

This afternoon the time and place of the next Assembly will be set. It is expected that the 1923 meeting will be held in Quebec province.

Publications.

The Board of Publications, judging by its report, conducts an ever enlarging business both in publishing and in carrying on a business in church supplies. Its list of publications numbering twenty-eight, and including lesson helps and illustrated papers, serves a constituency of nearly 400,000 persons—Sunday school teachers and scholars and young people. Seventy-five per cent. of these periodicals in fact, are used in both Presbyterian and Methodist churches. The lesson helps thus issued include two series—one dealing with the improved uniform lessons and the other with the departmental graded lessons—while five graded papers meet the needs of the different ages and grades of yong people and children. The total subscriptions to all these periodicals number nearly 400,000 copies.

General Board.

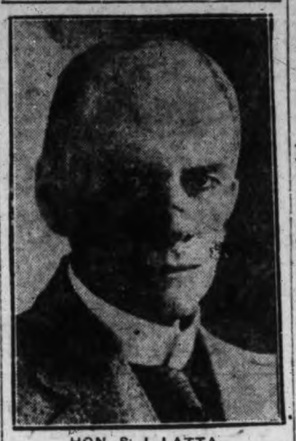

The report of the General Board, presented by its chairman, Rev. D. R. Drummond, D. D., dealt with many important matters. The current deficit of $300,000 is an accumulated one, foreign exchange accounting for more than half of it, together with advances to student missionaries and in bringing up stipends to the new minimum. Despite crop failures in St. John, N. B., June 12.—In the by-election held in St. John County on Saturday to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, who afterwards was elected to the Federal Parliament, A. F. Bentley, Government candidate, received 2,051 votes to the 1,780 polled by Dr. J. H. Barton, Opposition candidate. The majority of 271 was the largest made in the county in many years. The Government record was the only issue.

Hurricane Killed Sixty in the New York Area

New York, June 12.—The death toll of the brief but terrific hurricane that swooped down on the metropolitan area late yesterday passed the sixty mark to-day, with indications that the total number of dead might go much higher.

New York, June 12.—Daybreak this morning found hundreds of parents and relatives still standing vigil by the docks of City Island awaiting the arrival of police boats which during the hours of darkness had searched the waters of Long Island Sound for additional victims of yesterday's terrific storm. Powerful searchlights played over the water as the ghastly quest went on, but the swift tide apparently had borne away the bodies not recovered last night and early to-day the police reported that the list of known dead had not been augmented.

Swept Across Country.

More than sixty persons were thought to have lost their lives and upward of 100 were more or less seriously injured in the tempest which roared out of the hills of Northern New Jersey, beat the Hudson into foam-capped breakers, swept across New York City and then seemed to centre its wild energy on City Island and its vicinity.

Property damage estimated at [illegible],000,000 to several times that amount was done by the tornado.

After Great Heat.

The storm followed a day of intense heat and was as sudden as it was violent. Low hanging clouds across the Hudson River were observed, but they seemed to be far away and danger was unforeseen. Then like magic the western heavens took on a sinister aspect, the clouds seemed to dip toward the earth and before the frightened people exposed to the elements could reach places of safety the wind came.

At Classon's Point, a pleasure ground near City Island, a ferris wheel, heavily freighted with children and young people, had just begun to revolve with its passengers when the wind struck it. The top of the wheel was torn away and the remainder crashed to the ground, a tangled skein of steel. Dozens were buried in the wreck. Six bodies were later taken out and more than two score were attended by ambulance surgeons. A seventh victim died this morning.

Windows Broken.

Five people were hurt when the wind blew out great plate glass fronts of stores along Broadway and scattered furnishings and clothing along the street.

In Brooklyn, lightning struck a street car and knocked six passengers unconscious on the floor.

In the Bronx the wind lifted a small bungalow from its foundations, carried it more than a hundred feet into a neighboring yard and then smashed it to the ground. The occupant, Mrs. Hilda Dunlan, was taken from the ruins seriously injured.

Started Fire.

A huge electric sign on Broadway was torn loose from its moorings, toppled over on a skylight, carried a smaller sign with it and started a fire from disconnected wiring. The force of the crash started an automatic burglar alarm and the company responding soon had the fire under control.

Crowds on Holiday.

Twenty thousand holiday makers went to City Island yesterday and half went out on the waters of Pelham Bay. It was jammed with boats of every description when the storm

Delegates Gather For Discussion of Good Roads Plans

Formal Welcome Is Extended to Great Gathering of Highway Enthusiasts Here; Membership Representative of All Parts of Dominion.

From the Atlantic to the Pacific, Cabinet Ministers and prominent business men of every province of Canada arrived in Victoria during the week-end to attend the ninth annual convention of the Canadian Good Roads Association which assembled at the Empress Hotel this morning. The convention will last for four days.

As the delegates landed from the boats from the mainland one of the first things they noted was an avenue of welcome banners stretched across the street, while the light standards were profusely decorated in golden broom. Flanked by the beautiful gardens of the Parliament Buildings and the Empress Hotel, the streets fronting on the Inner Harbor, where the vessels dock, presented a striking and charming appearance.

Hon. John Oliver, Premier of the Province; Hon. E. D. Barrow, Hon. W. H. Sutherland and Hon. A. M. Manson, K.C.; Acting Mayor John Harvey and the presidents of all local organizations of a public or semi-public nature attended to greet the delegates.

Seldom before in the history of Victoria have so many prominent men connected with the public life of Canada met in a convention here. A number of prominent American roadbuilders or men interested in the development of good roads will also attend the convention and some of them will address the congress.

Objects of Body.

The convention is being held in cooperation with the Good Roads League of British Columbia. The objects of the association are to collect and distribute information concerning highway legislation, construction and maintenance in the various towns, cities, villages and municipalities throughout Canada; to stimulate and encourage in all ways the improvement, construction and maintenance of roads; the whole from an educational and practical standpoint.

For the above reason it will be impossible for the convention to discuss any particular local situation as regards the granting of any demands for road construction or maintenance, or even to take up the question of where the location of the trans-Canada national highway should be in any particular district or province.

A feature of the gathering is the large number of ladies in attendance.

Convention Organizes.

Most of the morning was taken up with the reception and registration of delegates and their wives, and though the Congress was called to order by President Hon. Sam J. Latta, Minister of Education of the Province of Saskatchewan, the real business of the convention began at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon, when a paper was read on "Experiments in Improving and Maintaining Our Prairie Roads" by Professor K. A. Clark, of the University of Alberta, discussion on which will be led by M. A. Lyons, Chief Engineer of the Manitoba Good Roads Board. A second address, on "Drainage Methods for Prairie Roads," was given by H. R. MacKenzie, A. M. E. I. C., Chief Field Engineer, Saskatchewan, and the third paper on the programme, "Asphalt and its use on Highway Construction," was to be read by Germain P. Graham, District Engineer of the Asphalt Association, Albany, N. Y.

During the four-day visit of the delegates various entertainments have been arranged for them and this part of the programme has been left in the hands of competent committees.

Premier's Welcome

Premier Oliver, in welcoming the delegates on behalf of British Columbia, said that it was a great pleasure to have so many prominent delegates from all parts of Canada come to this Province to consider one of the most important questions of the day—good roads. They added to the comfort of every-day life in many ways.

"Canada has such a great variety of natural resources and climatic conditions that it is necessary to make good roads an inter-provincial study," said the Premier. He urged the proper location of roads at their inception in order that waste should be prevented. Many roads had been built that had to be abandoned, and this was a waste that should be done away with, said the Premier.

J. L. Beckwith, chairman of the entertainment committee, in a few appropriate words extended a hearty welcome to the delegates. R. C. Nicholas spoke briefly on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce, and Acting-Mayor Harvey extended the civic welcome.

Hon. A. Ross.

Hon. Alex. Ross, Minister of Public Works, Alberta, said that he had come to the proper place to get the latest ideas on modern roadbuilding.

In Alberta there was only one thing lacking to build good roads, and that was funds, he declared.

"Every farmer in Alberta is a good roads booster—there is the material and the men to build. Prospects are good this year for a good crop." The speaker said he hoped that it would only be a short time before it would be possible to build all the roads immediately required. The Government is entirely sympathetic to the needs of the settlers.

S. R. Henderson, president of the Good Roads Association of Manitoba,

ONTARIO MAY HAVE PERMANENT SPEAKER OF LEGISLATURE

Toronto, June 12.—Ontario may break away from all Canadian precedent by appointing a permanent Speaker of the Legislature. Hon. Nelson Parliament, the present Speaker, is the prospective permanent Speaker.

KATO HEADS NEW JAPANESE CABINET

Viscount Uchida Remains as Foreign Minister

Majority of Papers Denounce New Ministry

Tokio, June 12.—Viscount Yasyua Uchida will remain Japanese Foreign Minister in the new Cabinet of Premier Kato, it was learned authoritatively to-day. Baron Shidehara, Ambassador to the United States, who had been mentioned for the post of Foreign Affairs, will be unable to accept such a portfolio because of his health, it is understood. A long rest is held imperative for Baron Shidehara, who at present is here on a long leave of absence from his duties at Washington.

Foreign Minister Uchida in an interview said the premiership of Admiral Kato should be welcomed by all the powers interested in China, as the Cabinet would preserve the spirit of the agreements reached at the Washington Conference, which would be ratified soon.

Opposed.

The formation of Kato's non-partisan Ministry was denounced today by a majority of the vernacular papers as "a disregard of the constitution and of public opinion." The Seiyu Kai, the majority party of the Diet, was attacked for supporting such a Cabinet.

LENINE ABLE TO WALK IN GARDEN

Improvement in Soviet Chief's Condition Reported

Moscow, June 12.—Premier Lenine's condition continues to show improvement, it is stated in official circles, and he is now able to walk in the garden and to dictate letters. Contrary rumors still prevail, but the pessimistic attitude of the Communistic circles ten days ago, when the Premier was admittedly in a critical condition, has vanished since the specialists have pronounced his ailment curable.

$200,000 IN STAMPS

That Is What It Cost Russian to Send Letter to Victoria Friend.

Henry Freeman, of 2204 Lydia Street, to-day received a letter from one of his Russian friends in Odessa. Postage on the letter to Victoria cost 400,000 roubles. In ante-Bolshevik times a rouble in this country was worth about 51 cents.

All this postage is made up of a sheet of Russian stamps a foot long and half a foot wide, wrapped around the envelope besides covering one side. Originally each stamp when it was printed was worth 250 roubles, but since printing the value of roubles has gone down so the post office increased their value up to 7,500 roubles each by stamping those figures across the face of each stamp.

"The question is what are they going to do when they require extra postage for carrying the mass of stamps," said Fred Evans of the Uplands, who has charge of the shipment.

GREAT VALUE OF GOOD ROADS

Toronto University Professor Speaks to Gyro Club

"There is nothing tangible about the results of good roads but they are contributing to the benefit of the community as a whole, and not to any one industry, and anything which gives a benefit to all will develop our industries best," stated Prof. J. T. Lang, of Toronto University, in the course of an address before the Gyro Club to-day.

Prof. Lang spoke on "Roads as a factor of National Development." He traced the history of good roads from the days of the Carthaginans, from whom the Romans received their inspiration, down to the present time when one saw the roads in such splendid condition that they made it possible for motor trucks to compete with radio systems. He instanced the connection between Toronto and Hamilton, where the motors carried the goods direct from one house to another and eliminated all delays.

Prof. Lang said that good roads were a safe and sound basis for the development of business and international relationships on this continent.

The five-minute speaker of the club was Archie Wills, who spoke on the newspaper as a factor in everyday life.

The Gyro orchestra was out in full strength and made a decided hit to-day.

FRAUD ALLEGED BY APPELLANT

Breaking of Contract Leads to Question of Fraud in Land Conveyance

The appeal of the Newlands Sawmills, Ltd., versus James Edward Bateman and Minnie Bateman opened in the Court of Appeal here this morning, with E. C. Mayers for the plaintiff appellant, and Martin Griffin for the respondents. The appeal is from one from a decision of Mr. Justice Macdonald in the Supreme Court, given on November 10 last, which refused to set aside a conveyance of Cariboo land given by Edward Bateman to his wife and which the plaintiff alleged was fraudulent.

Mr. Griffin took the preliminary objection that under the general provisions of the Appeal Act and under the special terms of the Fraudulent Preferences Act no appeal from a decision of the court could lie, and held that there was no right of appeal in this case.

Mr. Mayers was permitted to proceed with his case, holding that there was a right of appeal to every decision given by a Supreme Court judge under the terms of the Appeal Act.

Outlining the case for the appellant, counsel stated that the appeal was being taken on the ground, among others, that the learned trial judge had erred in finding that there was no fraud. The respondent had entered into a contract with the appellant to cut logs, held counsel. One month later the respondent gave a deed of conveyance of a lot in the Cariboo to his wife, this being the bulk of his property. Later the respondent, contended Mr. Mayers, got into difficulties, and the contract was not fulfilled. The appellant obtained a judgment for damages and costs, and was now seeking to have the decision of Mr. Justice Macdonald reversed. The appeal is proceeding.

PROMINENT MINISTER COMES TO CITY

Rev. W. Lashley Hall, B. A., B. D., opened his pastorate at Belmont Avenue and Oaklands Methodist Churches yesterday.

Mr. Hall has been several years in the Methodist pastorate in this Province. He was in Fernie at the time of the great fire some 13 years ago, and has subsequently been stationed at Port Hammond, Mount Pleasant, and Marpole as well as other places.

He is a graduate of Toronto University, and a lecturer on the staff of Columbian College.

Mr. Hall is a scholarly preacher, and will be a valuable addition to the ministry here. Mrs. Hall is also a talented speaker, and will be doubtless in demand by the women's organizations of the city.

COLORED GIANTS BEATEN IN FIRST GAME IN LEAGUE

The Standard Steam Laundry baseball team came into the baseball world on Saturday evening when it defeated the colored Giants to the tune of 8 to 7. The teams were very evenly matched and the game was full of pep the whole way through. The match was won in the last inning the Standard Steam getting one run, breaking up the tie score and winning the game.

Harry Savage the manager of the Standard Steam, has a good twirler in the person of Smith, who fanned no less than 11 of the opposing batters. He also slammed out two safe bingles one of which was for two bases.

In the first half of the ninth the Giants came from behind and netted three runs, tying up the score. But when the Standard Steam boys came to bat trouble brewed, Cox singled to right followed by Courtney who also connected safely. Moxeley slashed one of Alexander's curves for two bases, sending Cox over the plate, which was all that was necessary to win the game.

Roy Robertson umpired the game to the satisfaction of all.

POLICE ACTIVE ON ROADS

Sunday Police traps on main and trunk roads netted the police of the various municipalities surrounding the city and the Provincial police a rich haul yesterday. On the Island Highway the Provincial police were active, while in Saanich some twelve names were taken. Police court proceedings follow.

TO ENTERTAIN ROTARIANS

A party of nearly two hundred Rotarians, returning from the international convention in Los Angeles, will pass through the city to-morrow, arriving in the early afternoon and leaving on the midnight boat en route for the East. In order that they may carry away with them a memory of Victorian hospitality, the local Rotarians have planned a dance in their honor, to be held to-morrow evening at the Alexandra ballroom.

Ozard's orchestra has been secured, and it is hoped and expected that every Rotarian and Rotarienne in Victoria will turn out to give a rousing welcome to the visitors.

CHAMBER TO HAVE OFFICES IN NEW ARCADE BUILDING

Directors Told of Plan to Watch Freight Rate Question

Interest in the weekly meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce to-day was enhanced by the presence of W. L. Macken, president of the Associated Boards of Trade of British Columbia; R. Kerr Houlgate, president of the Vancouver Board of Trade; J. B. Thompson, vice-president of the Vancouver Board of Trade; W. E. Payne, secretary of the Vancouver Board of Trade, and Messrs. W. Woodward and W. Beveridge, of the Vancouver Board.

Brief, interesting remarks were made by Messrs. Macken and Houlgate, the latter of whom referred to the deputation from the mainland metropolis which had come over to interview the Premier in regard to the establishment of a railway traffic board for British Columbia. Mr. Houlgate forecasted the organization of such a body, whose duty will be to watch the freight rate question.

The report of the committee on new quarters, recommending the acceptance of the plan proposed for the future home of the Chamber of Commerce in the reconstructed Arcade Building, was accepted.

An invitation from the Anacortes Chamber of Commerce to attend a luncheon on June 23 was read and it is expected that Victoria will be properly represented at that event.

TICKETS FOR BALL.

Tickets for the ball to be given in honor of the visiting police chiefs are now obtainable at the police station, stated Chief Fry to-day. A committee of men from the local force are leaving no stone unturned in preparation for the three-day convention, of which the ball on June 28 will be an interesting part.

OBITUARY RECORD

One of Victoria's oldest pioneers passed away at the General Hospital, Vancouver, on Monday last in the person of Edward Dickinson, aged eighty years, formerly of Moss Street, Victoria, but who for the past six years has resided with his wife at 2036 York Street, Kitsilano. He was born in Liverpool, England, and arrived in Victoria in 1858 at the age of sixteen years, with his stepfather, Thomas Harris, Victoria's earliest Mayor, and his mother, Mrs. Harris, a lady well beloved and respected for her many charitable deeds. The late Mr. Dickinson was for many years in the employ of the C. P. N. Co. and the C. P. R. as purchasing agent. He leaves, besides his widow, a sister, Mrs. Wilson, of Fort Elizabeth, South Africa; one daughter, Mrs. H. M. Patterson, of California; six sons, Charles, Percy, Harcourt, George, Lloyd and Norman; two granddaughters, Mrs. D. C. Frame and Mrs. R. B. Elworthy; five great grandchildren and many nieces and nephews residing in British Columbia. Services were held at Center & Hanna's Funeral Parlors and at Mountain View Crematorium.

The funeral of the late Mayor Edward Parnell, of Winnipeg, who died here on Friday last, will take place from the B. C. Funeral Chapel on Wednesday at 2.45, proceeding to St. John's Church, where services will be conducted by the Ven. Archdeacon R. B. McElheran, of Winnipeg, assisted by the Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick. Interment will be made at Ross Bay Cemetery.

At St. Joseph's Hosnital, on June 10, the death occurred of David Berry, aged ninety years, a native of England and a resident of this city for the past thirty-nine years. The late Mr. Berry was formerly in the Navy and was a Crimean veteran, having been present at the battle of Azoff and the siege of Sebastopol. The remains are reposing at the Thomson Funeral Home pending funeral arrangements.

The funeral of the late Frederick Tuck took place on Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from McCall Bros.' Funeral Chapel. A large number of sympathizing friends gathered in the chapel, and many beautiful floral tributes gave evidence of the esteem in which the late Mr. Tuck was held. Service was conducted by Rev. J. F. Dimmick, assisted by Rev. M. Dimmick, who conducted a very impressive service, during which three favorite hymns of the deceased were sung, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," "Asleep in Jesus," and "Abide With Me." Mrs. H. Shingles sang very feelingly "I Know That Jesus Ever Lives." Interment was made in Ross Bay Cemetery, the following acting as pallbearers: A. Strickland, J. Snow, R. Cains, M. Keil, A. Billard, C. Newman.

WILL TEST ACT OF SEVENTEENTH CENTURY HERE

Newest Phase of Sunday Closing Controversy

Court Will Be Asked Knotty Problem

A determined effort will be taken in Victoria to test the courts in order to ascertain if the Sunday Observance measure of Charles II.—"a statute for the better observance and keeping holy the Lord's Day"—has any effect nowadays.

An information has been sworn out at the instance of George Henry Smith against Cyril Platt, war veteran cripple, charging him with taking a rowboat from the Causeway to the Government wharf without the necessary permit of a justice of the peace as required by a section of the Act of 29, Charles II.

It will be charged that the offence occurred yesterday. The summons will be returnable in the police court on Thursday, the information having been sworn before J. R. Saunders, J.P. The summons will be handed to the police for service to-day.

The prosecution has been instituted, it was stated to-day, by the Equal Law Enforcement League, a new body recently formed.

If a conviction should follow visions of the stocks may take form in Victoria. In fact one enterprising firm which has put them on exhibition here is said to be willing to hire or sell its present equipment to the city for the detention of offenders. A band, it is declared, has been offered to serenade the first offender condemned to "do" this mediaeval penance. Non-payment of a fine imposed under this Act carries a two-hour lull in the quietude of the stocks.

ARTILLERY WILL USE HOWITZER

Eight-inch Piece to Be Used by 12th Siege Battery

The Fifth Regiment C. G. A. went into the annual Summer camp today at Macauley Plaints under Lt.-Col. F. A. Robertson, officer commanding the regiment. With the artillery boys went an eight-inch howitzer, the largest piece to be heard from in this locality for many years, with the exception of a few scattered gounds from the 9.2 naval piece at Esquimalt. No. 1 Company of the Fifth will train in camp on the quick-firing guns, but will do their shooting at Black Rock Battery, Esquimalt.

Number 2 Company will work the six-inch disappearing guns at Macauley Fort. Unusual interest will attach itself to the camping of the 12th siege battery, especially as one of the pieces of ordnance to be operated is an eight-inch howitzer from the Armory. During the war the eight-inch howitzer was one of the most reliable of all artillery pieces, and created a healthy respect for its powers in the German ranks. Its accuracy was a feature of many of the latter day actions of the war, assisting in banks of barrages prior to assault. On the Plains the eight-inch howitzer will be used for target work on towed targets in the Straits. The detonation of such a large calibred weapon will prove a heavy punctuation to the lighter bark of the quick-firing guns and the deliberate roar of the six-inchers.

REPORT ON FREIGHT RATES AWAITED

Commons Commitee About to Complete Inquiry

Ottawa, June 12 (Canadian Press)—The inquiry into the Crow's Nest Agreement and the freight rate problem is expected to end this week. The evidence in chief is all in, and the cross-examination is now in progress. A great flood of facts and figures has been let loose before the special House Committee, but there is still a good deal of haziness as to just what the final decision will be.

The members from the prairies are urgent that the agreement should be allowed to come into effect again, but this has met with varied opposition. The railways have claimed that a return to the Crow's Nest Pass rates would put an undue burden on their revenues and that, if forced to accept them, it would be impossible to grant any other reductions in freight charges.

Reductions Offered

They have offered, if the agreement is not allowed to come into force, to make reductions on a group of "basic commodities." The general idea is that the rates on these commodities would go back to the standard in force before the increases in September, 1920.

There has been considerable talk about the corridors that the solution would be found in a further suspension of the Crow's Nest Agreement, accompanied by a full investigation of the whole freight problem by the Board of Railway Commissioners. The term of this suspension has been much canvassed, and periods of from one to three years have been mentioned. On the other hand, a member who is in a position to understand this problem as well as any member of the committee, says that the decision of the committee is still wholly uncertain.

CALLED TO FIRE.

Shortly before 10 o'clock this morning a slight blaze in the 1500 block, Fort Street, gave the fire department a quick run. Little damage was done.

COMMISSION TO VISIT RUSSIA

That Is French Hague Conference Proposal

British and French Notes Are Exchanged

Paris, June 12.—Premier Poincaire's reply to the British memorandum on the subject of The Hague Conference, which was delivered to the British Embassy this evening, says that if experts are sent to the Hague from France they are likely to favor a proposition for the sending of an expert commission to Russia to investigate conditions there, if Russia will consent.

Paris, June 12.—The British reply to Premier Poincare's memorandum setting forth the French attitude agrees that The Hague Conference should be a consultation of experts and should avoid political and diplomatic questions. Great Britain disagrees, however, regarding M. Poincare's demand that the Soviet Government withdraw its memorandum of May 11, holding that it is superseded by the Soviet's later declarations, and that, in any case, request for withdrawal should have been made before the Russians were invited to The Hague.

The British Government considers that the Cannes conditions should be the basis of the programme and asserts that private property in Russia should be restored to its owners or that they should be fully compensated, but that Russia's sovereignty should be respected and no programme along that line should be imposed upon her in advance if her indispensable co-operation was to be expected.

Debt of Russia.

Great Britain considers it necessary that Russia's war debt should be reduced in part.

The private interests that must be counted on to open credits to the Soviet, says the reply, will need guarantees and the Government can aid in securing these. There is no question of "capitalization" by Europe, the note continues, for the statesmen taking part in the attempt to restore Russia are quite capable of protecting their own interests.

Experts.

In view of the British contention that the preliminary conference at The Hague shall be only a routine preparation, the French Government may abandon its plan to have M. Benoit, the French Minister at The Hague, represent France, and may follow the British example of sending only experts who will act throughout all the sessions.

The reply is a long document, generally maintaining the attitude adopted by the British delegation at Genoa.

Concessions.

In outlining the proposed business of the commissions, the reply says that protecting of present conditions will lead to a struggle between concession hunters of all nations for titles in Russia which, without substantially assisting Russia's recovery, will bring about a grave controversy between the Governments to which the concession hunters belong. Therefore, a settlement of the problem is all the more necessary because there are no means open to the Government of controlling a movement of this kind, however much they may disapprove of it and dislike its influence upon their relations with friendly powers.

BODIES BROUGHT IN BY THE TIDE AT NEW YORK

New York, June 12.—The death list resulting from yesterday's hurricane leadped ahead when an incoming tide to-day returned with more bodies that had been swept out to sea last night. Four more bodies were recovered at Hunter's Island and two were reported to have been picked up at Travers Island.

City Island, haven for Sunday pleasure-seekers and amateur fishermen, was the hardest hit point in the Metropolitan area, but casulties, mostly by drowning, were reported from many other points.

Desolation.

The beach at City Island to-day presented a desolate spectacle. Several hundred persons, relatives of the missing, worn by hysteria, waited in little groups among the wreckage on the sand for some word of the fate of their loved ones.

Marine squad police, exhausted by their all night vigil, continued their cruise, keeping a sharp lookout for additional bodies.

Two Dead—One Missing

Albany, N.Y., June 12.—Two known dead, a two-year-old child missing and believed to have been drowned, scores injured and probably $2,000,000 worth of damage were the toll of the severe series of electrical storms, cloudbursts and small cyclones that swept over Northern and Central New York yesterday. Flood conditions prevail through the Mohawk and Hudson Valleys, and railroad traffic on small branch lines was crippled at an early hour this morning.

Port Said, June 12.—The British battlecruiser Renown, bearing the Prince of Wales, sailed from here to-day on the last lap of the Prince's Eastern tour. Only short visits at Malta and Gibraltar will break the remainder of the voyage.

London, June 12.—Reuter's Cairo correspondent says that the Prince of Wales, who arrived there Friday, exchanged visits with King Fuad. The Prince, seated in a motor car beside Viscount Allenby, the High Commissioner, smilingly acknowledged the hearty cheers of the Egyptians along the route.

Saturday afternoon the Prince visited the native bazaars. Later he played polo, scoring two goals. The cup won by Pasha Yusry's team, on which the Prince played No. 1, was presented to the Prince on behalf of King Fuad. Viscount Allenby also was presented with a gold cup.

REGRET CHURCH UNION DELAY

Toronto Methodist Leaders Speak of Action of Presbyterians

Toronto, June 12.—Methodism is just "a wee bit fed up" on the long delay of the Presbyterian Church in regard to church union, it would appear from statements made here.

The decision of the General Assembly at Winnipeg Friday to hold it up still another year has accentuated the disappointment of the Methodists and, in views expressed by church leaders here, this feeling is quite evident. The one exception to this was Hon. N. W. Rowell, who is one of the leading spirits on the joint committee which is handling the church union negotiations.

"Patience is the thing," said Mr. Rowell, smilingly. "The Presbyterians are moving slowly, but we must be patient."

"Church union has made more progress in Canada so far than anywhere else in the world," he said.

Rev. Dr. W. L. Armstrong, pastor of Centennial Church, said:

"This long delay is likely to have the effect of creating a new denomination and a strong one instead of reducing the number of denominations, which is the aim of church union. Methodism is losing churches in the West, and so are the Presbyterians because of the present situation. There is danger in delay."

TO BUILD PRAIRIE RAILWAY BRANCHES

Minister Tells Commons Extensions Contemplated

Ottawa, June 12. — (Canadian Press)—An item of $50,000 for pensions on the Intercolonial Railway and Prince Edward Island Railway was taken advantage of by R. M. Johnson, Progressive, Moose Jaw, in the House to bring up the question of the Bengough branch line in Southern Saskatchewan. He said that money had been twice voted on it, the first time in 1919, but still it was not built or located. In a township which he described as typical, which would be served by this line, Mr. Johnson stated that there were 150 farms with a wheat yield of 14,000 bushels, and 31 farmers had left owing to the lack of railway facilities. He urged the Minister to give an assurance that the line would be located this Summer.

Hon. W. C. Kennedy, Minister of Railways, replied that this branch would be one of the first to be dealt with by the new board and he had no reason to doubt that a location would be fixed upon this Summer.

John Millar, Qu'Appelle, asked whether it was proposed to go ahead with branches for which the roadbed was already built.

The Minister answered that the question would be dealt with by the new board, and he had no doubt that the roads built would be those demanded by the public interest.

W. F. Maclean asked when the new board would be appointed.

Mr. Kennedy said the personnel of the new board had not yet been approved by the Governor-General-in-Council, but he hoped to be able to make an announcement in the near future.

The item carried.

PREVENTED ROBBERY.

Dublin, June 12.—Detectives attached to the newly recruited Civic Guard frustrated the robbery of a bank at Arklow Saturday when they surrounded the building while the bandits were inside. After chasing the robbers through the building they made a number of arrests.

FARMER'S WIFE REGAINS HEALTH

Gives Credit to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Fork River, Manitoba.—"I saw in the newspapers where Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing so much good to women, and as I needed something I began to take it. I used to be very sick but I am not now. I live on a farm in the homestead district and we have to do all our own work. I tell all the women I see what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound does for me. I think it saves me from going to a doctor and is the best medicine women can take."—Mrs. Wm. Coultas, Fork River, Manitoba.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine for the ailments peculiar to women. It is prepared from medicinal plants, with care and accuracy. It can be taken by women of any age.

Women make a serious mistake in allowing themselves to become so weak and nervous that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their necessary household duties.

Such symptoms as pains and irregularities, all gone feelings, backache, headache, hot flashes, nervousness, with a general run-down condition, indicate some form of female trouble.

The Vegetable Compound has brought relief to thousands of women suffering from such ailments. Let it help you.

NAKAOKA SENT TO PRISON IN JAPAN

Korean Youth Sentenced for Killing Premier Hara

Tokio, June 12.—Imprisonment for an indefinite period was the sentence imposed to-day on Ryichi Nakaoka, the Korean lad of nineteen, who assassinated Premier Takashi Hara in a railway station here last November.

Hayashimoto, who was charged with instigating the murder, was acquitted.

Nakaoka slipped through the guards on the station platform and stabbed the Premier fatally. The boy was arrested on the spot. Hayashimoto was arrested later. Nakaoka was quoted at the time as saying that he objected to the liberal policies of Premier Hara.

NAVAL PROTECTION IS LEAGUE'S MOTTO

British Navy League Alters Its Constitution

London, June 12.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The constitution of the Navy League has been revised. A year ago there was a movement by certain members to advocate through the League reduction of armaments. The Council of the League has now amended the constitution; the main object of which, as set forth, is "to secure complete naval protection for British subjects and commerce all the world over," which means that the League will maintain its old standpoint.

A campaign is being instituted in the Dominions to raise an endowment of $100,000 for the League.

GOVERNMENT WON PARAGUAY FIGHT

Rebel Force Compelled to Retreat from Capital

Buenos Aires, June 12.—A dispatch to La Nacion from Asuncion, Paraguay, says the Government forces withstood the attack of the revolutionaries against the capital. The rebels were compelled to retreat, abandoning material.

A dispatch from Asuncion Saturday said a battle was in progress in the outskirts of the city, with the contending forces using machine guns and artillery.

SESSION OF BRITISH PARLIAMENT MAY END SUDDENLY

London, June 12.—(Canadian Press Cable)—With Parliament reassembling to-day after the Whitsuntide recess, The Chronicle, the chief Coalition organ, says it is not taken for granted that the session will run its normal course, pointing out particularly that the Irish situation may have a profound effect.

So far as actual legislation goes, there is a light load to carry. The reform of the House of Lords is hardly a matter which can be undertaken by the present Parliament which, according to The Chronicle, is "not only devoid of energy, but is not really convinced of the kind of change that would be an improvement on the present state of things."

VALERA SPOKE OF ELECTION PLANS

Belfast, June 12.—Eamonn de Valera, in a speech at Mallow Saturday in support of the panel of candidates for Parliament, emphasized the impossibility of acting as though conditions were normal. He said that while the opposing programmes differed fundamentally, they had many things in common, and that the factions in coming together meant that they were determined to lay stress on the things they had in common.

Under the abnormal conditions of the last five years, said de Valera, individuals and groups of individuals under the necessity of assuming immediate responsibility, had taken powers upon themselves, very often for the good of the nation, which could only be tolerated in time of war. Those powers now must be relinquished to a central authority established by the nation, and it was to achieve such a result that the two sides to the controversy had come together.

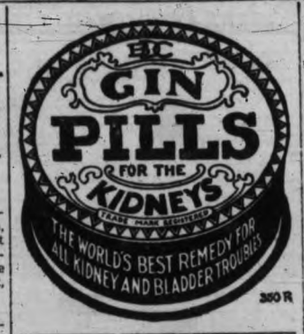

PRINCE OF WALES HONORED BY EGYPT

CONGREGATION HEARD NEW MODERATOR

Rev. Dr. Clarke Preached in Winnipeg Church

Winnipeg, June 12 (Canadian Press)—Presbyterian Church congregations in this city yesterday had the privilege and pleasure of hearing sermons preached by some of the prominent commissioners in attendance at the General Assembly. It was quite clear that the opportunity was welcomed, as at all church the congregations were large.

As the result of the innovation, the new Moderator, Rev. W. J. Clarke, D.D., of Westmount, Montreal, was one of the preachers. The General Assembly does not usually ask a Moderator to preach on the Sunday after his election, but at the Thursday afternoon sederunt the Assembly extended a pressing invitation to Dr. Clark to preach at the morning service at St. Stephen's, and he graciously consented, addressing a congregation which filled St. Stephen's to capacity.

Dr. Clarke spoke on the vital importance of the fact that God is love.

"While we do not understand and do not attempt to explain some things," he said, "there is evidence sufficient for us to believe that, in spite of all the tragedies and evils of life, God is love. We concern ourselves with written creeds and forms of worship and a multitude of other things, yet if only man's life be under the spell of the love of God, I care not what his creed may be. I know of no better advice than this, that if you believe in the God of love, you should show it by your love of your fellow men."

FARMER IS NOW ALWAYS READY FOR DAY'S WORK

Moore Also Says He Can Eat What He Wants for the First Time in Fifteen Years —Praises Tanlac for Full Recovery of Health

"For the first time in fifteen years I can eat whatever I want without suffering afterwards," said A. J. Moore, a well-known farmer living at 160 Ormidale, East Collingwood, B.C.

"Before taking Tanlac my stomach was in about as bad fix as could be. My appetite was so poor I hardly ever cared to sit down to the table. Gas on my stomach almost smothered me, and often at night I had to get up out of bed and fight for air. My heart would palpitate so fast it scared me, and I had sharp pains in my chest. I had severe headaches and dizzy spells, could never sleep to do any good and went down hill so fast I got so weak I could hardly walk any distance without giving out.

"Tanlac has brought me the finest appetite, and after taking four bottles I haven't a sign of my old troubles. I get up in the mornings feeling ready for a big day's work. Tanlac is certainly a great medicine."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

PREMIER DRURY CROSSING PRAIRIES

Two Ontario Ministers to Address Convention in Victoria

Winnipeg, June 12.—That he was neither talking nor thinking politics on his trip through the West was the assertion of Premier Drury of Ontario here yesterday on his way to Victoria to attend the Good Roads Association convention. Hon. F. C. Biggs, Ontario Minister of Public Works and Highways, is accompanying the Premier, who resumed his Western trip last evening.

Premier Drury and Mr. Biggs, both of whom will deliver addresses at the Good Roads Convention, are expected to arrive in Victoria on Wednesday.

TRIBUNAL TO SETTLE AMERICAN WAGE DISPUTES

New York, June 12.—The Tribunal of Justice, an institution founded by the American Arbitration Society to deal with controversies ordinarily disputed in civil courts of law, will be open to the public and the trades within ten days, it was announced to-day.

Simple rules of procedure by which it is hoped to settle without the usual expense and delay, differences between wage earners and employers and other controversies, are now being formulated.

TALK OF LOAN FROM CANADA TO RUSSIA

Sydney, N.S. June 12.—A campaign among labor unions to urge the Federal Government to make a $15,000,000 loan to Russia may be undertaken by J. B. McLachlan, secretary of District 26, United Mine Workers of America, as the result of a promise received by him from the Russian Soviet Government to guarantee repayment of such a loan if granted.

Secretary McLachlan dispatched an inquiry by wireless on April 27, asking if the Russian Government would guarantee repayment of a $15,000,000 distress loan if such were made by the Canadian Government.

BODY OF WOMAN FOUND IN RIVER

Calgary, June 12—The body of a woman was found in the Bow River, about eighteen miles from Calgary, Sunday afternoon, presumably that of Mrs. Ralph Poultney, who had been missing for more than a month. Mrs. Poultney, who had been grievously worried over the illness of a girl friend, became mentally unbalanced and left her home one morning with her three-year-old son Jack. The body of the boy was found in the river the following day.

Fertilizer Better Than Manure

Manure always contains weed seed and to use manure on lawns or gardens means a busy time later on trying to get the weeds out. The weed seeds spoil lawns and make trouble in the garden.

A scientific fertilizer, highly concentrated, has been produced. It is from double to treble the strength of most fertilizers. It is odorless, stainless and made in convenient tablets, just the right size for best results. These are pushed in the soil about the plants or along the rows in the garden, around trees and shrubs, and the effect is almost immediate. Finer flowers, vegetables and fruits and more of them result. Professional gardeners use them in increasing quantities because it pays.

For lawns, one tablet is dissovled in a gallon of water and sprinkled. Thick growth results. Most lawns suffer from starvation.

Order by name Stim-U-plan'T. There is no substitute. The big tablets in wax paper.

Price delivered, 35c, $1.00 and $4.50. Complete directions in each package. Order from your seed dealer or United Distributing Co., 328 Pemberton Building, Victoria, B.C.

Remember the B. C. Protestant Orphanage will hold Tag Day on the 17th June.

STOCK JUDGING COMPETITIONS AT VANCOUVER FAIR

Vancouver, June 12.—Stock judging competitions at the forthcoming Vancouver Exhibition in August for ex-soldiers who are now engaged in farming in British Columbia and for children who are interested in live-stock and contemplate taking up cattle breeding as a business will be an outstanding feature of the fair.

H. S. Rolston, manager of the Exhibition Association, stated much interest was being taken in this class.

"Though we had similar competitions last year, the event in August will be looked upon really as the first of the series which it is planned to hold," he said. "We have already received a number of entries, and as there is no entry fee attached to the competition, we expect to receive a large number before the final day of entry, which will be Saturday, August 19."

Judging will include Jersey, Holstein-Friesian, Guernsey and Ayrshire cattle, and all competitors will be called upon to judge all classes. Twenty minutes will be allowed to each competitor to judge and to write reasons for each class of stock.

For any person who has served in the army or navy and who is engaged in farming in British Columbia, or is undergoing training to prepare for such purpose, there will be five prizes of $12, $10, $8, $6 and $4.

In the children's class there are four divisions, with prizes varying from $100 to $4.

FIGHTERS WON OVER FOREST FIRE IN SHAWNIGAN AREA

(Times Correspondence)

Shawnigan Lake—Fire Patrolman J. W. Archer, of Shawnigan, was called to fight a very bad bush fire on the Woolley estate last week. The fire had gained considerable headway. Mr. Archer called in help, and was able to check and finally put it out, thus saving a very valuable stand of cedar.

Mr. Archer complains that although there are forty-five large signs on the Malahat drive, tourists still persist in throwing lighted cigar and cigarette stubbs into the bush. Only last week he put out several small fires from that cause. Another complaint is that tourists who stop by the sea shore to boil water will persist in leaving the fines burning or only partially out. This neglect caused him three trips last week to put out burning beach debris.

THE CONVENTION OPENS.

There was a time when the governments of this country were accused of regarding their road building policies as something in the nature of political capital. A new road here and a little repair work there were often undertaken at a convenient date prior to an election. It is even charged that in this advanced age a Department of Public Works is not altogether blind to the value of favors that it is able to bestow when occasion shall demand. But in the general sense highway construction has been shot away from political influence by the representatives of progress who have formed themselves into a national body that is known as the Canadian Good Roads Association—a new parliament whose voice rises far above party consideration. Because of this fact the convention which commenced its business sessions in this city this morning is one of the most important national events of the present year.

The Canadian Good Roads Association is not merely a body that has been formed for the special delectation of the academic and technical or practical student of highway matters and their relation to commercial progress. Its mission concerns itself with the essential phases of development in every sense of the term. Upon its investigations and upon its decisions in respect of highway matters generally the Dominion and Provincial Governments depend for much of the material upon which to formulate their own programmes. How highly the work carried on by the Association is valued by the administrative bodies of the country is reflected by the fact that their own delegates are assigned to take part in the business of the annual gathering and provide its sessions with the official and departmental atmosphere.

While the business of the convention will absorb much of the time of our distinguished visitors during the next few days every Victorian will desire that such leisure hours as may be available will be reserved for the consideration of lighter and perhaps more entertaining matters. Those who are in the city for the first time are especially welcome and those who have been here before will naturally understand that their presence in our midst is a matter for mutual congratulation. Victoria and Vancouver Island as a whole, more especially in view of a particular geographical position and its relation to highway projects of a national character, are appreciative of the honor which the Association has conferred upon this part of the country by holding its annual gathering here this year. We trust that its business will be profitable and that each delegate will take away pleasant memories of his or her visit to the Capital City of British Columbia.

IMMIGRATION.

Canada's immigration in the year which ended on March 31 showed a drop of 60,000 from the total of the preceding twelve months. In the year 1920-21 the number of immigrants who came to this country was 148,477, while in the year recently closed the number was 89,999. It is reasonably safe to assume that more people left this Dominion than came into it in the twelve month period which ended last March, and we question if we have even held all natural increase, that is to say our margin of births over deaths. In the same period, however, our national debt increased by $86,417,000. Our foreign trade also dropped a cool billion in the year which ended on March 31. Obviously, therefore, the immigration question is very urgent. We must bring more settlers into this country in large numbers, remembering always that each year sees a considerable outflow of people from Canada, especially to the United States. We also should remember that Australia and New Zealand are very vigorously in the market for more immigrant population. Undoubtedly a large continuous stream of immigrants involves certain disabilities to the country which receives it. The absorption and assimilation of newcomers, their transformation into good Canadians, cannot go on without certain disturbances. All growth has its pains and penalties for the thing that grows. This is as true of the nation as it is of the individual. But if his country is going to gain the place in the world which nature has qualified it to fill, it will have to show enterprise and courage on the question of immigration, as much as was shown by our neighbors in the adjoining States, whose colonization problems were much more difficult than ours and who had to safeguard settlement in their great western areas by years of sanguinary struggles with Indians.

SOCIAL HYGIENE

In allocating $5,000 for the use of the Executive Committee of the Provincial Council for Social Hygiene the Government has made an investment that should return useful dividends. Too much emphasis cannot be laid upon the importance of the work that is being carried on by this body. It has undertaken one of those missions that must rely upon the efficacy of its educational propaganda before it can hope to reap the reward that its difficult task deserves. The various aspects of the menace and problem of sex diseases are not subjects that appeal to the popular demand for entertainment or even enlightenment. Reticence on the part of the general public to interest itself for its own protection and benefit, disinclination on the part of sufferers to avail themselves of free advice and treatment at the official clinics, and the difficult task of breaking new ground in accordance with modern methods of progress, render it essential for the governments of the day to assist an organization that is prepared to blaze the trail. The Provincial Council is entitled to warm congratulation upon its record to date.

A NOVEL CRITICISM.

One of our contemporaries advances a novel criticism of the Dominion Government's bill to invest the Provinces with the exclusive right to import liquor. It describes the measure itself as a retrograde step because "a check of some character on the prices charged by our Liquor Control Board is sadly needed." It is further concerned lest the advent of the new restriction shall tempt the Government of this Province to charge any prices that it may see fit in the absence of competition.

We hesitate to believe that this criticism is meant to be serious. Our contemporary never lost an opportunity to recommend a policy that would restore what it described as "the liberty of the subject" and protect the Province from such abuses as were common under the Prohibition Act. Does it require the individual permit to import liquor from the other side of the Atlantic to keep the ordinary being with average common sense posted on wholesale prices? Is it reasonable to suppose that the elimination of the bootlegger will be the signal for the authorities in this Province to increase the already high prices that are now being charged without a protest that would kill the business altogether? The answer to the joint query is that this Government is desirous of meeting the wishes of the people in both particulars.

The Attorney-General has said that he intends to administer the Liquor Control Act in the interests of public morality and not in the interests of revenue. He knows better than anybody else which of these policies is observed in fixing present prices. Mr. Manson knows that they could not be increased without creating more than a suspicion that he had decided upon a complete reversal of his own programme. For these reasons the fears of our contemporary are decidedly thin.

THE AERIAL MAIL.

Without being accused of displaying prejudice of any kind practically every Victorian will hope that Pilot Eddie Hubbard will be successful in securing a renewal of his contract to carry mails between here and Seattle by the air route. Since the service was inaugurated two years ago Mr. Hubbard has fulfilled his mission with a consistency that has demonstrated the feasibility of commercial flying. He has triumphed over the elements on all occasions and his arrival on time to meet incoming and outgoing vessels has been the admiration of officials engaged in the more orthodox methods of transportation. Not a single accident has marred the record of the contract-holder to date and his comings and goings are so regular that the aerial postman is no longer the novelty he once was.

NOTE AND COMMENT

At a large demonstration at Munich the other day the crowd sang "Die Wacht am Rhein" with great gusto. The watch on the Rhine is being maintained; but British and French soldiers are helping to do the job.

Canadian funds are rapidly approaching the normal in the New York money market and the pound sterling is maintaining a persistent four-fifty figure. Has anybody explained why the Canadian dollar or the sovereign were ever otherwise than at par?

We are now informed that General Gregorie Semenoff is on his way West in order to catch the Empress of Asia for the Orient. It is to be hoped that after he has left these shores we shall have heard the last of him. What he says or does is of little account in these days of bigger things than Cossack fire-eaters.

Just as the Afghan hillmen considered the British "poor sports" when they employed aircraft to dislodge them from their mountain fastnesses in the campaign of 1919, so has the Hottentot in Southwest Africa objected to the aerial disturbance that ejected him from a little plateau from which a handful could have held an army at bay. Native uprisings are poor business—for the natives—these days.

DELEGATES GATHER FOR DISCUSSION OF GOOD ROADS

said that province had extended its boundaries and now looked upon itself as being a seaport province.

"Manitoba has made good progress in the building and maintenance of good roads," he asserted. The association had played a big part in seeing that the programme was carried out. Manitoba was also confronted with the financial problem, but everything possible was being done. The speaker was confident that a great deal of good would result from the present convention.

T. J. Mahoney, of the Ontario Good Roads Association, said that as a visitor to the great West for the first time he had been greatly impressed with the difficulties that had to be overcome in the matter of road construction, and he was convinced that as a result of the convention the claims of the West would hereafter receive much more consideration at the hands of the national Government.

"The pioneers of this country," he said, "are deserving of great praise."

Hon. J. L. Perron

Hon. J. L. Perron, Minister of Highways, Quebec, expressed the pleasure of Quebec officials at being present at the convention. They were greatly impressed with the wonderful possibilities of British Columbia.

The speaker referred to the great natural resources of this Province, coupled with the exceptional climatic conditions, and predicted a great future for British Columbia.

A. M. Rankin, M.P.P., Ontario, said Ontario was spending very large sums of money on highways, but in that province the population was sufficiently large to make road problems easier to overcome than was the case in British Columbia.

S. L. Squire, past president and now chairman of the advisory committee, spoke of the great purpose of the association in order to carry out the principles and objects of which delegates were prepared to travel many miles to discuss with their brother Canadians.

"Six hundred millions invested in highways in Canada must be protected. Fifty millions have been wasted by municipalities in road experimenting," he stated.

"There is need for strict economy, but we also need more and better roads, and in the building of these there must be as little loss as possible. A national conscience is needed which will make it imperative that the individual take a personal interest in the prevention of loss," he declared.

The speaker thought great services could be rendered the country by the engineers, who should make the study of economical and efficient road-building their life work.

"The Federal Government has some interest in the building of good roads, for they have to do with colonization and the Province with the best roads will get the settlers," he pointed out.

"Those who use the roads most should pay for them and also those having an unearned increment, deriving a benefit from property fronting on highways. Those who receive the benefit should pay," said Mr. Squires.

Mr. Johnston to Speak

Victorians will be particularly interested to learn that a place has been made for D. W. Johnston, municipal engineer of South Vancouver, to speak during the sessions on "Bituminous Bound Roads." Mr. Johnston was engineer of Saanich during its road-building programme, and Shelbourne Street was built by him without the contract restrictions which bound the construction of the majority of the permanently paved highways of the neighboring municipality.

many parts of the country last year, the budget givings of congregations advanced $20,000, the total reaching $1,086,255. It was suggested that the deficit be wiped out with a special offering next Thanksgiving.

It was also reported that more than 400 congregations had advanced to the new minimum stipend of $1,800, and than many others substantially increased their stipends.

While thanking the church for its liberal monetary response in view of deterrent conditions, the board called for increased liberality in givings if a serious crisis in the work at home and abroad was to be avoided.

Regarding suggested appointments of an executive officer of the general board, the clerk of the General Assembly, and the secretary of the committee on literature and missionary education, it was recommended that no appointments be made this year.

HUDSON BAY RAILWAY PLAN TO BE INVESTIGATED

Ottawa, June 12.—(Canadian Press)—The question of the completion of the Hudson Bay Railway will be reviewed by the new board of management of the National Railways when it is appointed. This announcement was made by Hon. W. C. Kennedy, Minister of Railways, in the House of Commons during discussion of a vote of $7,000,000 to pay the deficit on the Canadian Government railways, that is, the Intercolonial, the Transcontinental and branches.

The subject was brought up by Andrew Knox, Progressive, Prince Albert.

Mr. Knox read a recent resolution by the Associated Boards of Trade of Saskatchewan in favor of the completion of the railway, and expressed his confidence that the natural resources in the territory around the bay would justify the project. He asked the Minister of Railways to give an assurance that it would be completed.

Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, asked which Mr. Knox would prefer, the completion of the Hudson Bay Railway or the construction of branch lines on the prairies. It was a matter of priority, he said.

Mr. Knox replied that he agreed that the branch lines were more urgent, but he thought the Government should complete the inquiry as to which was the better port, Nelson or Churchill.

The item carried.

TRANS-CANADA HIGHWAY URGED

as a transcontinental highway and which could be improved gradually from year to year; and you undoubtedly will find that it would have to be enlarged constantly to accommodate the traffic.

"Roads," Dr. Doolittle declared, "take people out of the cities to the country. They create market gardens for the city. They are the greatest factor in the development of any country."

Dr. Doolittle urged the Federal Government to subsidize the construction of portions of a trans-Canada highway. "We must have military connection between the East and the West," he asserted. "Are you people in British Columbia satisfied not to be connected with the East in a military sense except by way of the United States. We don't want such a road for purpose of aggrandizement or to fight the Americans, who are our best friends, but we want such a road to maintain our nationhood."

To-day's luncheon was given to the Good Roads delegates by the Victoria Automobile Club. Ex-Alderman Gilbert Christie, vice-president of the club, presided.

DR. DOOLITTLE IS DEAN OF ROADS MEN

Dr. P. E. Doolittle, President of the Canadian Automobile Association, who reached here for the Good Roads Association meeting to-day, is, perhaps, the most prominent automobile man in Canada, and certainly the most picturesque in the history of the automobile in the Dominion. With Sir John Eaton he was the first man ever to own and operate an automobile in Toronto, and since that time has given increasingly of his time and energy to the gospel and fight for good roads. The first president of the Toronto Automobile Club he was afterwards president and founder of the powerful Ontario Motor League.

Earlier in life he held the high-bicycle championship of Canada, and retains to this day the vigor and force of a very young man. Of recent years his energies have been directed towards the goal of an all-Canadian highway, and the move to advertise Canada's superior advantages as a tourist ground, until, in Eastern Canada, his name has become synonymous with "all-Canadian road," in his ambition for which he has practically given his life.

Two years ago Dr. Doolittle was signally honored as being elected at Winnipeg to the presidency of the Canadian Automobile Association, which comprises in its membership practically all the automobile clubs and motor leagues in the Dominion of Canada.

FISH BELIEVED KILLED BY ELECTRIC STORMS IN SOUTH

Wilmington, N. C., June 12.—Millions of fish, ranging in size from one inch bottom feeders to five foot sharks are dying along the Pender Coast and are being washed up on the beaches in shoals over a stretch of twenty miles. Dr. J. H. Hamilton, county health officer, has requested the Government fisheries bureau to send experts here to determine the cause of the phenomenon. He says that the fish probably were killed by lightning during the severe electrical storms of the past few days.

A local geologist has advanced the opinion that a subterranean earthquake is responsible for the occurrence.

6,000 ACRES NOW SECURE AT SUMAS

Floods Prove Feasibilty of Reclamation Proposals

Fraser River flooding is now subsiding, and although there will be other periods of high water this season there will be nothing to cause any serious trouble, the Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, announced to-day on his return from Sumas and other places in the Fraser Valley, where high water looked as if it were about to do damage.

The low part of Nicomen Island has been flooded, but no surprise has been occasioned through this as no attempt has been made to protect this land. The higher parts of the Island, however, are safe.

"The test of the recent high water has proved that the whole Sumas reclamation scheme is feasible and economically practical," said Mr. Barrow. "Within the East unit of the dyke grass is now waving and cattle grazing secure from the river. Protected by this dyke are 6,000 acres. When finished this will be the safest dyke in British Columbia. The underground seepage proves not to be as much as we provided for."

SPECIAL RATES FOR "THE WAYFARER" IN SEATTLE

Seattle, June 12.—Fare and one-half round trip rates on all railroads operating in the Pacific Northwest have been announced for The Wayfarer, in Seattle July 24 to 29. This is the only concession of the kind made by railroads in this territory in years and indicates, according to C. W. Meldrum, assistant general passenger agent of the Great Northern, the unusual importance of the pageant as a tourist attraction.

The rates are "open" which means any person may take advantage of them, regardless of any fixed number of excursionists, as is necessary under the usual convention tariffs. The territory included in the reduced rates is Washington, Oregon, British Columbia and Northern Idaho. The dates of sale for nearby territory are July 24 to 29 inclusive and from more distant points July 23, 24, 26, 27, and with final return July 31.

Railroad members of the Pacific Northwest Convention Bureau, which has established the reduction, are: Camas Prairie, Canadian Pacific, Canadian National, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Coeur d'Alene & St. Joe, Great Northern, Inland Empire, Northern Pacific, Oregon Electric, Oregon Trunk, Spokane International, Spokane & Eastern, Spokane, Portland & Seattle, and Union Pacific.

It is expected the Southern Pacific also soon will announce special rates to Seattle for The Wayfarer from California points.

WOMEN'S CLUB WILL ENTERTAIN LADY VISITORS

Mme. Lugrin-Fahey to Sing at Canadian Club Reception

To-morrow afternoon the Women's Canadian Club will hold its last gathering of the season in the form of a reception in honor of the lady visitors who are in the city with the Good Roads convention. Madame Lugrin-Fahey, who is an honorary member of the club, has very graciously promised to present the entire programme, which treat taken in conjunction with the opportunity of extending hospitality to the visitors, should ensure a full attendance of members. Mrs. Naismith will act as accompanist for Madame Fahey. The reception will commence at 3.30 and afternoon tea will be served in the ballroom.

To the Women's Canadian Club has fallen the privilege of making all the arrangements for entertaining the ladies who are in the city this week for the Good Roads Convention. A special committee of the club under the convenership of the president, Mrs. J. F. C. Hyndman, has arranged to convey the visitors to the lovely gardens at "Benvenuto" on Wednesday, when Mrs. R. P. Butchart will be the hostess. On Thursday the visitors will be the guests of Mrs. Curtis Sampson, "Moulton Combe," Oak Bay, for the tea hour.

Mrs. E. H. Griffiths has also arranged for transportation, a number of owners of private cars having kindly offered their cars, which will be available at all times for the convenience of the visitors.

MRS. BLAIR TO LECTURE ALL WEEK

Business Missionary Began Series Here To-day

Mrs. Margaret J. Blair who has come to Victoria to commence a series of lectures at Hudson's Bay Company's store is a widely recognized authority on dress, beauty of figure and complexion.

In a series of coast to coast tours, she has carried to millions of women the knowledge that leads to physical perfection, freedom from petty ills and perpetual buoyancy of youth.

As a trained instructor in domestic economy and the practical arts of the household, Mrs. Blair first became known through her work at the head of the Domestic Art Department of the University of Minnesota. But in recent years her lectures have been along original lines, as a result of a more or less accidental discovery of what could be accomplished by means of physical training through rhythmic exercising or dancing.

These ideas are based on the desire of all women to be beautiful—a desire Mrs. Blair believes is quite possible of achievement. She has demonstrated in her own life that a woman who, at forty-five years of age, is too stout for either comfort or beauty and too stiff for grace may achieve slenderness and flexibility by means that are altogether delightful. The exercises she uses in her rhythmic dances are designed to assist the body in all its functioning, so that toxic poisons are easily eliminated and stiffened muscles become as free and flexible as in youth.

Originally specializing as a lecturer on dress, Mrs. Blair says she suddenly awoke to the fact that her figure was not doing justice to her clothes. She began systematic physical exercises, but found it hard to perform them faithfully because they were not interesting. The story of the folk dances she adapted to add variety to the exercises, her use of the phonograph to cause her to forget the effort she was making and the final evolution of her dozen or more health dances, each one designed to reduce or develop some part of the body or to correct some physical ill, is too long to tell here. Mrs. Blair gave her first lecture to-day.

The lectures are free to the women of Victoria at the invitation of Hudson's Bay Company. Cards of invitation may be obtained from information Bureau on the Mezzanine Floor of Hudson's Bay store.

And they do.

The One Unwanted

By RUBY M. AYRES

INSTALMENT No. 14

"Goodness knows what your mother will say," was her despondent reply. "The young ladies in families where I lived when I was a girl were never allowed to think of being engaged to be married until the gentleman had first asked permission to——"

"To pay his addresses!" I added for her, as she paused. "I know all about that, but those days are past and over, thank heaven! Women are not sat on as they were then, and we can marry who we like, and that's why I shall marry Mr. Anderson whatever my family say. They can all object; it won't make a scrap of difference. Heavens, here he is!"

I had seen Mark's tall figure pass the window, and I jumped up, pushing my chair over in my agitation.

He came into the room before I could reach the door. He looked at me, and his color rose, but he only said "Good morning" very quietly, just as if nothing had happened, and I was faintly disappointed.

"Is Alberry about?" he asked Mrs. Alberry, and she answered tartly that he was not, that he had gone over to Langdon, and then she got up and walked out of the room with her head in the air.

Mark looked at me with raised brows.

"What's the matter with the old lady?"

"She's angry because I told her I was going to marry you. She's done nothing since but cry and wail, as if I were going to die, and she keeps on saying that she can't imagine what mother will say!" I smiled as our eyes met. "As if it matters," I added softly.

He held out his hand to me. "Come here, Sally."

I went willingly enough, but he did not kiss me as I thought he was going to. He just looked down at me gravely and asked:

"And what will your mother say?"

I shrugged my shoulders.

"Oh, she'll cry and call a meeting of the aunts, and I shall be scolded, and told that I am an ungrateful girl, and all the rest of it! But you need not mind," I added hurriedly, as his face changed, "I've heard it so many times before; it won't hurt me in the least, and really they'll all be delighted to get rid of me at last—permanently."

He let my hand go and walked away to the window.

"I wasn't thinking of that," he said.

I looked after him blankly.

"Well, then—what were you thinking?" I asked.

He came back restlessly.

"For one thing, that I haven't got a shilling in the world—as your people count shillings. And that—also from the point of view of your people—I am not in a position to keep a wife."

My face fell.

"You mean that we can't get married—for ever so long?"

"We can't unless you will come and live up at the farm with my aunt and Nina and be content to live simply, as we do now," Mark replied.

I felt my color rising.

"I should not mind living anywhere with you," I said. "I should not mind a cottage or just two rooms and only bread and butter to eat, but—you can't expect me to live with your aunt and Nina."

He smiled at my vehemence.

"Then we must wait, that's all," he answered. "I'm not sufficiently well off to run two establishments, and my aunt is dependant upon me, and it's quite impossible for me to turn her out of the house."

There was a little silence.

"We shall have to wait, then, that's all," I agreed painfully.

I turned to the table and began aimlessly packing up the breakfast things. I was bitterly disappointed. Last night had been so wonderful and romantic, and now, this morning . . .

Mark came behind me. He took the pile of plates from my hands and put them down with a bang on the table; then he drew me into his arms.

"You—baby!" he said teasingly.

I tried to draw away from him.

"I'm not! I don't know what you mean. I'm sure I don't want to get married, if you don't."

"That," said Mark quietly, "is a cram!"

I tried to be dignified, but I had to laugh, and then he said—well, perhaps I won't tell you what he said, or you'll begin to get tired and think we were just stupidly sentimental.

But before he went away I was quite happy and he had promised to write to my father and tell him we were engaged.

I stood at the door and watched him go down the lane. It was a wonderful feeling to know that he was no longer just a mere man called Mark Anderson, but the man to whom I was engaged to be married, and who would some day be my husband.

He looked back at the end of the lane and waved his hand, and then I went in to brave the wrath of Mrs. Alberry.

But to my surprise she said nothing. She looked almost subdued, and I began to hope that she had realized how useless it was to try and interfere.

I spent the afternoon at my bedroom window, hoping that Mark would come over again, though he had said nothing about it. But though I stayed there till I was chilled to the bone, and it had got so dark that I could hardly distinguish anything, he did not come, and I went down to tea dispiritedly.

Tea was a solemn affair that day, Mr. and Mrs. Alberry hardly spoke, though they looked at me from time to time as if I had committed some deadly sin; and I was thankful when the meal was ended.

I made up my mind that I would write to mother that night and tell her my news, so that she would get both Mark's letter and mine by the same post. I could picture her surprise, and, as I thought in my ignorance, her relief, to think that the one unwanted daughter in the family was safely off her hands forever.

In spite of what Mark had said it never occurred to me that they might seriously object. If it had been either of my pretty sisters who had chosen him for a husband it would have been different, I knew, but, for me—well, I had never mattered to anyone.

So I put a new nib in my pen and had sat down at the long kitchen table to write my letter when the dogs tied up in the yard outside began to bark furiously.

"Mark!" I thought, and my pulses began to race.

But it was not he, for he always walked in without knocking, and this time the crazy, old-fashioned bell at the front door jangled unmusically through the house.

I heard Mrs. Alberry go to answer it, and then I heard a man's voice, and a moment later she came into the kitchen.

"A gentleman to see you, miss, and oh, dear, no fire in the sitting room again. If I'd only known he was coming——"

"I didn't know either," I said crossly. "And who is he, anyway?"

The man answered for himself, stepping into the cosy light of the kitchen; and it was Lionel Champion.

I dropped the pen and jumped up. "Goodness!" I said, "whatever have you come for?"

Mr. Champion laughed as we shook hands.

"Well, as you are so frank, I will be the same," he said. "I've come to see you."

"But I only saw you yesterday!" I said, amazed. "I thought you were going back to London with father."

"So I did, and I came back again this morning. I am staying at Langton. I told you I had a house there, or didn't I? I forget. Anyway, I have and as time hung rather heavily on my hands I thought I would come over and ask when you will let me give you your first riding lesson."

"Oh, whenever you like," I cried impulsively; then stopped, and my eyes fell. "Oh, I'm so sorry," I broke out in confusion, "but—but I'm afraid I can't. You see—you see, lots of things have happened since yesterday."

He raised his brows.

"Since yesterday! In so short a time? What sort of 'thing?'"

I looked down at the letter I had begun to write; the words "Dear Mother" stared up at me from an otherwise blank sheet of paper.

"Well—if you must know—I'm engaged to be married," I said with a rush.

He echoed my words incredulously.

"Engaged to be married?"

I nodded. "Yes—and oh, please don't say that I'm too young, or call me a child, or anything aggravating like that, because I know my own mind perfectly well, and that's all about it."

He asked curtly: "And the lucky man—do I know him?"

I nodded. "Yes—at least, you told me you did. It's Mr. Anderson—Mark Anderson."

"What! That waster!" Mr. Champion said savagely.

I stared at him, my face flushing passionately.

"If you're going to be rude," I said, "you can please go away. Mr. Anderson and I are engaged, and if you think I am going to stand here and let you say hateful things about him which aren't true, you're mistaken. He's the best man in the world, and I love him."

I.O.O.F. MEMORIAL SERVICE IS HELD

Grand Lodge Gatherings to Be Held Here This Week

The prelude to the meeting of the Grand Lodge of British Columbia, I. O. O. F., which took place yesterday afternoon at the hall, Douglas Street, in the form of a memorial service, was one of the most successful affairs of its kind held. The large hall was well filled and the service was very impressive, both at the hall and also later at the cemetary, where those present were taken in automobiles furnished by members, and where 135 graves of departed brothers and sisters were decorated.

Mr. E. Tuck acted as chairman at the service at the hall and after a few opening remarks called upon Rev. de B. Owen, who gave an instructive address. Mrs. Whidden and Mrs. Todd rendered solos, while those present joined in signing hymns.

THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT

THE VAIN MERMAID

Part II.

Again the Silvery Fish said there was only one way it could get the silver comb, and the Mermaid took it back into the sea.

One day not long after this Greta was out in a boat with her father and when he drew in a net full of fish Greta saw among them the Silver Fish she had seen with the Mermaid.

Picking it up carefully, she asked, when her father was busy on the other side of the boat, if there was anything she could do to help it. "I have seen you on the rocks," she said, "and I know some spell of enchantment is upon you."

"You must throw me back into the sea," said the Fish, "and then if you would save me, go to the town when the fish your father has caught are sold and buy a silver comb, bring it to the rocks where you have seen me with a mermaid, and wait."

Greta put the Fish back into the sea and the next day when her father went to town she said she must go with him, "and father, I must have all the money you get for the fish; please give it to me and do not ask any questions."

"Let her have it," said her mother; "buy a silk dress, my child, and perhaps some earl will fall in love with you."

So Greta went with her father and all the money from the sale of the fish was given to her, but when she bought the silver comb which cost all she had her father shook his head.

"You mother will be angry," he said, "for a silver comb will never win you an earl."

"Oh, you foolish child!" exclaimed her mother, when she learned that all Greta had bought was a silver comb, "and I hoped you would marry an earl."

But Greta held her peace while her mother wept and her father wondered over the strange use their daughter had made of the money.

The next day Greta went to the rocks and waited, and when the Mermaid and the Fish came out of the sea and the Mermaid had asked if she were the most beautiful of all creatures, Greta stepped around the rocks and held out the silver comb.

"Take the comb, beautiful Mermaid and let the Fish be freed from the spell," she said. The Mermaid had started to leap into the sea, but when she saw the comb she slipped down upon the rock again and held out her hand.

"Wait," cried the Fish, "call the Sea-witch first, have her break the spell that holds me in this shape, and then you shall have the comb."

Without taking her eyes from the silver comb the Mermaid placed her hands to her mouth and called through them, making a shrill cry that seemed to Greta must reach the depths of the sea.

Up from the water there slowly arose a head all dripping with green glittering hair, and the Mermaid said, "Give back to the Fish his mortal shape; I'd rather have the silver comb than to hear him tell me I am beautiful. I know that without being told."

A dripping green hand and arm appeared and Greta heard a voice that sounded like the voice of the waves on a stormy night, saying: "The spell that held you now is broken, by the shining silver token."

The head disappeared and the Mermaid, who had not taken her eyes all this time from the silver comb, stretched out her hand for it.

Greta gave her the comb, and without speaking the Mermaid leaped into the sea and out of sight.

A handsome youth, looking at Greta with smiling face, took her by the hand—the fish had disappeared. "You have saved me," he said, as he led Greta over the rocks towards her home.

TAKING NO CHANCES

They were uttering the tender nonsense that succeeds the great question.

"And," said the girl, bravely, "if poverty comes we will face it together."

"Ah, dearest," he replied, "the mere sight of your face would scare the wolf away."

And there's another engagement ring wasted.

CHINESE PUPILS RAPIDLY SOLVING PROBLEM OF FLYING

Eight Student Aviators Taking Instruction at Esquimalt Harbor

W. H. Brown, M.C., Is Acting as Instructor

After a few weeks spent quietly in organization, and the construction of a floating hangar on the lee side of Inskip Island, Esquimalt Harbor, the Chinese Commercial Aviation School is now in full swing. This morning flying was carried out from 6.30 until 10.30, when the air became too unsteady for further tuition.

Although actual instruction in flying commenced only last week, the pupils of the school have an average of over an hour and a half in the air each, and are well on their way to the completion of the six hours' dual instruction they will receive before flying the machine alone.

The school was founded by Chan Dan and Lee Qwong Yee, both of this city, while G. B. Simon is in charge as manager. Eight pupils are enrolled to date and many others are anticipated. A standard fee is charged for tuition, the school taking the pupil and instructing him in all branches of heavier-than-air craft until he is able to pilot a machine for himself.

Licensed By Air Board.

Inspected, passed and licensed by the Canadian Air Board, the Chinese Commercial Aviation School is now a permanency, say its promoters.

Instructing the would-be aviators is W. H. Brown, of 1234 Oxford Street, a local aviator who was decorated for gallantry in action in the late war, winning the M.C., and who became identified early with flying in this city upon his return.

Up until quite recently Mr. Brown was attached to the B. C. Air Station at Jericho Beach as a pilot navigator, but severed his connection with that station upon being offered the post as instructor to the local flying school.

With Commercial Aims.

The main object of the school, it is said, is to turn out pilots for commercial aviation in China, a great field being open in that direction as soon as conditions in that land have settled once more.

Purchased from the Vancouver agents of Ericson Aircraft, Ltd., Toronto, a Curtiss 80 horse-powered aeroplane is being used, equipped in this instance with a Hoffar pontoon and operated as a seaplane. The machine is fitted for dual control, the instructor flying in the rear seat with his pupil in the forward cockpit.

Pilots In Six Hours.

It is estimated that six hours' dual instruction in the air will make the pupils ready for flying alone, for which purpose another machine may be acquired, it is said.

The hangar, designed by Mr. Brown and built by Mr. Stevens, a boat builder at the Gorge, is a compact floating house, with a slip, carriage and winch to run the machine to and from the water.

Pupils are given twenty minutes' instruction at a time, and the Chinese students are taking a very keen interest in all phases of the work at the school.

Lifted from the water this morning the Curtiss had been dried, cleaned and carefully gone over for loose controls, damaged turnbuckles or other defects, within ten minutes, a feat performed with astonishing celerity.

Chinese Flying Terms.

Interested spectators of the flying to-day were R. R. Bell, of Young's Studio, who took several lengths of film for the Pathe and Fox News services, and William S. Butterfield, an author who has undertaken to evolve for the instructor a code of flying terms in Chinese. It appears that the Chinese language, in its many dialects, has little provision for such terms as are used in aviation, and the pupils so far have been making what use of the English terms they could.

The course used for flying is from the harbor at Esquimalt to Albert and William Heads, thence to Brotchie Ledge off the Dallas Road, and return to Esquimalt. The flight is made at an altitude of 1,200 feet, instruction taking place only in still air, that is in the early morning and just before dusk. The pupils already enrolled include Lia Ming, Gee Sam, Hip Kwong, Nam Kwong, Victor Moo, Wei Chung, Gee Wai, and Lee Joe. The first pupils to "go solo," it is thought, will be Hip Kwong, Lee Joe and Lia Ming, all of whom are making rapid strides.

Ideal Air Harbor.

The hangar has been constructed in an ideal site, with plenty of open water, and an assured protection from wind and sea. Speaking of Esquimalt as an air harbor Mr. Brown expressed himself as fully satisfied with its facilities which are ideal, he states.

ROTARY WHEEL FLOWER BED FOR KAMLOOPS

Following an open-air luncheon of the Kamloops Rotary Club at the park bathing pavilion last week, the local Rotarians formally presented the Rotary wheel flower bed recently made in Riverside Park to the park board, the presentation being made by the club's president, Dr. R. W. Irving, who stated that this small donation to the city park was made chiefly to form an incentive to carry on the good work of making Kamloops' public recreation area a place of beauty. The donation was officially received by Alderman Galloway, chairman of the park board, who said he was pleased with the spirit that prompted the gift. Mr. Galloway paid a tribute to Mr. Laidlaw, the park superintendent, who, he declared, was greatly interested in making the park beautiful.

The Rotary wheel is laid out in a central spot in the sward area of the park and it is believed will soon become a thing of beauty.

AFRICAN MISSIONARY WORK TO BE SUBJECT

Miss Brandon, North American secretary for the Heart of Africa Mission, will give an address in the First Presbyterian Church Hall tomorrow at 8 p. m. The Heart of Africa Mission was organized by C. T. Studd, a famous English cricketer, to Christianize the tribes of the Congo and elsewhere.

A missionary training colony has been established by the Heart of Africa Mission to enable the men and women to become acquainted with the dangers and privations of life in the missionary field, and the best way to overcome these obstacles. Four districts have been allotted to four missionaries who left in October for Africa, where they are taking up the evangelical work in the area.

GRAND OPENING OF LODGE AT JASPER PARK

Canadian National Opening New Mountain Hostelry This Week

Jasper Park Lodge, nestling among the Rockies on picturesque Lac Beauvert, will be officially opened on Wednesday, with appropriate ceremony, a large party of Canadian National officials from the territory west of Winnipeg and east of Victoria, being routed to Jasper Park to participate in the grand opening of the Canadian National mountain hostelry.

Jasper Park Lodge consists of a group of buildings, including a large lounge building, dining hall, dancing pavilion and a number of separate sleeping buildings for the accommodation of travelers stopping over in the mountain division. All the buildings are of log construction, rustic design, fittingly furnished and electrically lighted. The sleeping quarters are equipped with modern conveniences, including running water in each room with baths.

The Lodge will be operated under the direct management of the Canadian National Railways' Hotel department, with F. A. Darnell in charge.

Mr. Darnell has had wide experience, having been steward of the Rideau Club, Ottawa, manager of the Assiniboine Club at Winnipeg and latterly a caterer at Vancouver.

He will be assisted by Mrs. Darnell, who is a noted dietician, being a graduate of one of the largest Domestic Science Colleges of London, England.

Jasper Park Lodge, as its name would indicate, is located in Jasper National Park, and will be ready for the reception of guests June 15. Manager Darnell being now on the ground making preparations for the opening.

NORTHERN PACIFIC TRAINS ARE RUNNING ON SCHEDULE TIME

Of the 6,811 passenger trains operated in April by the Northern Pacific, 6,564, or 96 per cent, made their schedule time, according to announcement to-day by A. B. Smith, passenger traffic manager.

"The North Coast Limited" and "The Pacific Express," although running with all new steel equipment of heavier type than heretofore, made very creditable trans-continental on-time records.

"We are improving Northern Pacific standards every day," said Mr. Smith. "We want our train arrivals to be so dependable that clocks can be set by them. We want our passengers to know that they can count on meeting their appointments, even though making a 2,000 mile trip."

WINTER CRUISES TO WEST INDIES

Canadian Pacifc Announces Additonal Trips for SS. Empress of Britain

In response to many inquiries officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company announce that the "Empress of Britain" will next Winter make two cruises from New York to the West Indies. She was again selected for these cruises by reason of the fact that she is not only a luxurious ocean liner of the most modern type, but the largest steamship making the West Indian cruises, with a registered tonnage of 15,857 tons and a displacement tonnage of 22,200 tons. One outstanding feature is that her engines are oil-burning, a feature that will appeal to all those who have experienced the dust and dirt of coaling at tropical ports. The first cruise will start from New York on January 20, and will cover over 6,000 miles, with Havana, Port Antonio, Kingston, Colon (Panama), La Guayra (Venezuela), Port of Spain and La Brea (Trinidad), Barbados, Fort de France and St. Pierre Martinique, San Juan, and Nassau as the ports of call. The second cruise will start from New York on February 20, and stops will be made at Havana, Port Antonio, Kingston, Colon, La Guayra, Port of Spain, La Brea Point, Barbados, Fort de France, St. Pierre, San Juan and Bermuda.

There will be excursions ashore at the various ports, conducted by representatives of the Canadian Pacific, which will give unusual opportunities for seeing every possible point of interest during each cruise, which will last nearly a month. Two days will be spent ashore at Havana and two days in Jamaica, including excursions to nearby points.

There will be an additional day added to next Winter's cruise at Panama and a journey will be made from Colon through the Culebra Cut to Pedro Miguel, Panama City, and Balboa. In Venezuela the trip includes an excursion from the port of La Guayra to Caracas, the capital.

PRESIDENT BRINGS LARGE CALIFORNIA FRUIT SHIPMENT

The Admiral coast liner President is expected in port at 6 o'clock to-night from San Francisco with a good list of passengers and capacity freight.

For Victoria she has 132 tons of freight, including five cars of oranges and grapefruit.

PROLONGED FIGHT LIKELY TO ENSUE IN ATLANTIC WAR

New York, June 12.—The trans-Atlantic freight rate war between competing steamship lines to German, Belgian and Dutch points, has spread to United Kingdom ports when the Conference made reductions for ten to thirty per cent. on a long list of commodities. Fixed rates on about ten commodities also were abandoned entirely.

As the situation now stands, shipping men see the beginning of a prolonged struggle for domination of the freight traffic to Europe.

LINERS RETIRING FROM PACIFIC HAVE EXCELLENT RECORDS

SS. Empress of Japan, on Return, Will Have Covered 2,500,000 Miles

When the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Japan, which sailed June 1 on her last trans-Pacific voyage in the company's service, returns to this port July 19, she will have completed her 158th voyage, and will have covered approximately 2,500,000 miles, or equal to nearly one hundred times around the globe. Her four years' war experience is not computed in this record. The Empress of Japan has enjoyed greater popularity during her entire career than any of the steamships of her type on the Pacific. For years she held the trans-Pacific steaming record of 10 days 10 hours.

Capt. A. J. Holland, R. N. R., is now in command of the Empress of Japan.

The advent of the two new liners, the Empress of Canada, 22,000 tons, and the Empress of Australia, 21,500 tons, has led to the withdrawal of both the Empress of Japan and Monteagle from the trans-Pacific run.

SS. Monteagle.

The Monteagle has already concluded splendid service on the Pacific Ocean. Built in 1899, she was on the Atlantic for some years, and in 1906 came to the Pacific. Since then she has performed very satisfactory service, being popular alike with shippers and the travelling public. Though not very fast, she is a fine seaboat and is absolutely reliable under any conditions.

Multitudes of passengers and mountains of freight have been carried by her during her term on the Pacific. She has been under command, at various times, of the best known of the company's masters, including Capt. A. J. Hailey, now commander of the Empress of Canada; Capt. F. L. Davidson, shore superintendent for the company at Vancouver, and Capt. A. J. Hosken, of the Empress of Russia, who was in command of her when the crew of the French steamer Hsin Tsin was rescued from a watery grave in the China Sea about two years ago.

Lovegrove Goes Home.

In her ninety-two Pacific voyages, the ship has travelled over 1,340,000 miles and consumed 395,000 tons of coal. It is possible she will be placed in cargo service on the Atlantic. Her last commander was Capt. A. V. R. Lovegrove, who is now on six months' leave. With Mrs. Lovegrove and Miss J. E. Lovegrove he is now en route on the Montcalm for Liverpool. He will spend his vacation in England. Lige a majority of the Canadian Pacific captains, he is a Royal Naval Reserve man. His vacation will be shortened by the requirement that he spend two months of his leave in training with the navy forces while in Great Britain. This training must be taken by all the R. N. R. men on the Canadian Pacific liners who were granted commissions when the ships were serving as auxiliary cruisers durng the war.

LINER MONTCALM WILL BE READY FOR NEXT SAILING

The liner Montcalm, which grounded in the St. Lawrence while outbound from Montreal, will take her next scheduled sailing from Montreal June 30, according to an announcement made by the Canadian Pacific Railway. The liner is now being repaired at Quebec.

GRAHAM PROMOTED BY ADMIRAL LINE

A. B. Graham, port agent for the Admiral Line at Vancouver, has been promoted to the post of general agent at Vancouver with jurisdiction over Canadian business. Mr. Graham's rise in the company's service has been steady and rapid. He is a native of British Columbia.

PROCEEDED TO AID OF DISTRESSED CRAFT

S. S. SNOHOMISH

The American authorities lost no time in dispatching the Snohomish to the assistance of the disabled power schooner which yesterday was adrift with six men aboard approximately twenty-five miles to the southwest of Kyuquot Sound, west coast of Vancouver Island.

DISABLED FISHING CRAFT IS ADRIFT OFF WEST COAST

SS. Snohomish Sent Out from Port Angeles to Assist Seattle Boat

Drifting in the open Pacific before a southeasterly breeze, the disabled fishing schooner Texas, with six Seattle men aboard, was carried further out to sea last night, having been rendered helpless by a broken shaft.

The disabled craft was first reported by observers on Tatoosh Island at the entrance to the Strait of Juan de Fuca. The message to the American radio department at Seattle said: "The fishing schooner Texas of Seattle is adrift with a broken shaft, 25 miles southwest of Kyuquot Sound. Requires immediate assistance. Any ship in the vicinity of the Texas, report to this station and render assistance."

The wireless station at Gonzales Hill here picked up the news of the drifting Texas yesterday, but no further word had been received this morning.

The American life-saving tug Snohomish was dispatched from Port Angeles to the assistance of the 16-ton craft.

Kyuquot Sound, off where the Texas was first reported, is on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

Esquimalt Friendly Help.—At the regular monthly meeting of the Esquimalt Friendly Help held in the Sailors' Club Saturday with Mrs. Croft presiding, it was shown in the reports that there had been an increase recently in the amount of assistance given out, due, it is believed to the closing down of the drydock work and consequent unemployment, many heads of families being affected. Donations from Miss Pooley, Mrs. Billinghurst, Mrs. J. Nichol and others were acknowledged with thanks.

B.C. TRAFFIC EXPERT URGED ON PREMIER

Associated Boards of Trade Would Pay Half Cost

Say He Could Aid in Keeping Freight Rates Down

Appointment of a traffic expert for British Columbia to aid in keeping down freight rates was urged on Premier Oliver to-day by members of the Associated Boards of Trade under President Macken and President Kerr Houlgate, of the Vancouver Board of Trade. B. W. Greer, J. B. Thomson and Woodward assisted in the presentation of the arguments.

They pointed out that classification of commodities transported by railways and steamers is continually being varied, and because of this rate reduction does not necessarily work out to the advantage of the shipper or the consumer. They explained that commodities are given higher classifications to offset the reductions in rates.

The delegation promised that the Associated Boards of Trade would pay one-half the expenses of such an official if the Government would pay the other half.

The premier is putting the proposal before other members of the Government.

Canadian Legion.—Victoria Post, Canadian Legion, held a very enjoyable smoker in the clubrooms of the organization Saturday evening with president H. D. Twigg in the chair. The concert programme included a sketch, "A Box of Tricks," by Mr. Mrs. and Miss Merryfield; songs by Tom Obee, George Petch, W. Cobbett, T. Cresswell, Comrade Clear, H. Hemstock and F. Brawn, and a cornet solo by M. Vincent. During the programme F. Merryfield gave an exhibition of sleight of hand and conjuring, being ably assisted by Mrs. Merryfield and daughter Pearl in the cross escape and double escape trunk mystery.

Car Jumps Bank.—Proceeding west on Bay Street at 11.45 p. m. a car driven by W. W. Harvey, of Vancouver, fell over an embankment for a distance of some ten feet and was badly wrecked. Mrs. Harvey accompanied her husband in the car but was unhurt, while the driver sustained injuries arising from shock. The front axle of the car was broken, while one whole side of the conveyance was badly crushed. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey, staying at the Empress Hotel, had planned to take the midnight boat for Vancouver last night. Lack of adequate light was given as the reason for the accident, the street at this point lying in the rear of the Armories, while a sharp declivity falls away on the north side of the road.

HARVEY TO KEEP OUTSIDE JOBLESS FROM COMING HERE

City Hears of Stringent Regulations in Vancouver

Find Island Loggers Come From Mainland

Stringent regulations to prevent other communities unloading their unemployed upon Victoria next Winter and to stop undeserving men from wandering from city to city securing relief will be put in force here next Winter, Acting Mayor John Harvey, Chairman of the Civic Unemployment Committee, announced to-day.

Alderman Harvey's announcement followed the receipt of information regarding Vancouver's unemployment plans. This information was brought to the city by Alderman Gillespie, who has returned to Victoria after a business visit to his Vancouver offices. Alderman Gillespie informed Alderman Harvey that the Vancouver authorities had worked out a careful and accurate system whereby the record of every man who applies for relief is kept by means of a card index system. In this way it is possible to weed out the men who do not deserve relief.

"There is no doubt," said Alderman Gillespie, "that many men turned down by the Vancouver authorities, will come here. We want to guard against these."

"We do not intend to take care of men who are deemed unworthy by mainland cities and who wander over here," Alderman Harvey declared. "We shall take stringent measures to cope with this situation."

Sees Logging Camps.

Alderman Harvey, accompanied by Aldermen E. S. Woodward and E. B. Andros journeyed out to Jordan River Saturday as the guests of G. M. Tripp, General Superintendent of the B. C. Electric Railway Company. While the trip was taken for the purpose of looking over the company's power houses the aldermen visited logging camps which are operated in the district.

"I was informed there that all the loggers employed come from Vancouver," Alderman Harvey said today. "I asked the reason for this and I was told that the operators could not get men here. This seems most extraordinary in view of the claims of the unemployed that their number is so large I shall endeavor to see if Island loggers cannot get men from among our unemployed."

LOAN COLLECTIONS

The Canadian National Gallery will, this year, be represented at the western exhibitions, including Victoria, by a larger collection of fine pictures than has ever been sent West. The Government recognizes that its efforts to get Canadians to take an interest in their own National Gallery are appreciated by the people of this Province. At present Mr. Eric Brown, director, is in England, where, in company with Sir Edmund Walker, he is making more purchases for the Government. His deputy, H. O. McMurry, however, is attending to the matter of making an exhibition in British Columbia.

C.P.R. STOCK GOES UP A FEW POINTS

Fine Victory of Railroaders Over Knights Tightened Up League Race

Chambers Hurled Nice Ball for C.P.R., Whiffing Fourteen Knights

The C. P. R. stock took a decided rise when the railroaders took the Knights of Columbus into camp Saturday afternoon at the Stadium and handed them a trimming 10 to 8 in an amateur ball game mixed with good, bad and indifferent baseball.

Taken as a whole, the game was a good one, the teams battling through the first four innings with neither club being able to shove a run across although the Knights came within an ace of scoring in the first inning. Richdale fanned, Kenny and Straith walked, McGinnis was safe when Bill Chester fumbled his grounder, loading the bases. Dunn poked a hot one to Newman and Kenny was caught at the plate and on Ross's quick return, Straith was out at third, and the Knights chances of scoring went flooey.

This airtight ball was too good to be true, however, and in the fifth things began to happen. Dunn started the excitement by letting Ned Chester's grounder get away. Three hits, including a double, followed in quick succession, and these aided by another error and a single to left field, chased Moffat to the showers for a rest. Jack Noble took up the burden at this stage, and after passing Bentley, three more fielding errors coupled with several errors of judgment added to the Knights agony, and nine runs were shoved over by the railroaders before Noble was able to stop the slaughter.

Caught the Fever.

The Knights apparently caught the hitting fever after watching the C. P. R. crew and came right back and shoved five runs over the platter. Richdale got a life when Bentley mussed up his roller and then pegged Wild to first, Richdale going to second. Kenny fanned. Straith hit to Bill Chester, and Bill tried for Richdale at third, making a perfect billiard, the ball bouncing off Richdale's head and hitting Eddie Newman in the eye. Everybody was safe, although some were not sound. Richdale and Straith scored on McGinnis's double to left, McGinnis's shot across on Dunn's single to right. Anthony walked and scored with Dunn when Fetherston doubled to left. Fetherston was thrown out at third trying to stretch his hit to a triple.

The C. P. R. scored their next and final run in the seventh, while the Knights added one in the eighth and two more in the ninth. The Knights threatened a batting rally in the final frame, but Chambers tightened up and Mack's gang fell just three short.

McGinnis and Fetherston, of the Knights, led the hitters with three out of five, each gathering a double, Chambers, of the railroaders, set a strike out record for the season whiffing 14 Knights.

On the strength of their victory, the C. P. R. are now in a position to climb out of the cellar as a defeat for the Eagles on Wednesday means the bottom of the ladder for the lodge members. Should the Eagles win, however, they will move up to second place and the Knights will go down to keep the railroaders company, so there is no question but that Wednesday's game will be full of all kinds of excitement, and the railroaders will be out in full force to root for Macfarlane's crew to come through with a win.

THREE EXTRA HOLES TO DECIDE CHAMPION

Montreal, June 12.—(By Canadian Press)—It required three additional holes before G. H. Turpin, Royal Montreal, was declared the winner of the amateur championship of the province of Quebec Golf Association in Saturday's play over the Mount Bruner course. At the end of 36 holes, the ultimate winner and C. C. Fraser, were tied at 159 strokes. On the play off the first two holes were halved in four and six. Turpin won the third in three after Fraser had landed in the rough off the green.

Regular Meeting of the Knights of the Thistle is postponed until Tuesday, June 20.

HOMERUN BAKER IN HOSPITAL AFTER A NASTY HIT IN BACK

St. Louis, June 12.—Frank Baker, veteran third baseman of the New York Yanks, was taken to a hospital here last evening suffering from an injury caused by his being hit in the right side of the back with a ball pitched by Urban Shocker in the third inning of yesterday's game. No announcement was made at the hospital as to the extent of his injury.

The injury did not appear to be very serious, but Baker was forced to leave the game in the fourth inning, after he had singled. The ball, it was said at the hospital, had struck him near the kidneys.

GIANTS' PITCHERS NONE TOO STEADY

Champions Will Have to Bolster Staff If They Wish to Outdistance Others

New York, June 12.—In the National League the Giants are unlikely to outdistance other contenders unless their pitching improves. Batting punch, plus a couple of whirlwind finishes carried them to victory in the past week. Against Brooklyn a week ago, the champions pulled a five-to-four triumph out of the fire with a three-run rally in the ninth and duplicated the feat Saturday, tallying three times in the final inning for a 3 to 2 victory over Cincinnati.

Pittsburgh, in close pursuit of the leaders, found Philadelphia, while St. Louis dropped three in a row to the Boston Braves before breaking the Hub jinx.

Dodgers' Pitchers Falter.

Faltering pitching and poor fielding cost Brooklyn two out of three games to Cincinnati, but Dutch Reuther won his eleventh game yesterday 6 to 1 and the Dodgers made it two straight from Chicago.

Alexander pitched the Cubs to their only victory over New York. Boston's pitchers played a prominent part in the Braves' victories, while the Phillies offered little opposition to Pittsburgh and St. Louis.

Canucks Did Well In Championships

Two Pacific Northwest Golf Titles Remain On This Side, While Von Elm, As Expected, Carried Amateur Championship Across Line; Greatest Week of Golf In History of City Comes to Close; Colwood Club Congratulated

Well, it's all over and life in the city is getting back to normalcy. It was a most thrilling week, with hundreds of outsiders here enjoying themselves and most local folks pitching in and helping them out.

It was a week of golf that will remain vivid in the minds of all who participated as the finest and most successful in the long and brilliant career of the Pacific Northwest Amateur Golf Association. Beautiful weather added to the pleasure of both golfers and galleries and the magnificent scenery at the Colwood links was likewise greatly enhanced.

In looking back over the week's events Canadian golfers did remarkably well in the tournament. Of the three championships at stake the Canucks took two while the Americans romped off with the other one, which, of course, was the best of the meet.

Those Who Won.

George Von Elm, of Salt Lake City, scored his second consecutive victory for the amateur golf championship, defeating Bon Stein, of Seattle, by one up.

Mrs. Hutchings, of Winnipeg, secured the women's championship by five up and three to play in the finals on Saturday, with Miss Anderson, of Vancouver.

Two Victoria men battled in the final for the handicap championship and the title went to Dr. W. T. Barrett by 2 and 1 over N. F. Rant.

Despite the strongest competition from across the border this country also won the P. N. W. open championship, Dave Black, of Vancouver, finishing first with his brother, Willy, second.

The Tit-Bit on Saturday.

Without doubt the tit-bit of the tournament was reserved for the final day, when Stein and Von Elm teed off in the final for the amateur championship, Von Elm was away off in his game in the morning seeming to be able to do nothing right, and as a result he was four down at the end of the round. This handicap seemed too great to overcome, and Stein was favored in many quarters to win. But the Salt Lake youth settled down in the afternoon and played par golf. He was right back on his game and Stein found himself two down at the thirty-fourth. He won the next hole, but was unable to do better than halve the thirty-sixth, and as a result the championship went to Von Elm, one up.

Bon Stein showed plenty of fight, but Von Elm was hitting them too straight and putting too well. The champion was getting better length on his tee shots in the afternoon, while Stein seemed to fall away a bit. At the twenty-third Von Elm was but two down and at the twenty-ninth he squared the match. By sinking a difficult putt on the thirtieth he was one up. They halved the next three holes, and then Von Elm won the thirty-fourth, which made him dormie two.

Stein Came Back.

Stein won back a hole at the thirty-fifth. His second shot was within twenty feet of the pin with Von Elm outside. Stein rimmed the cup, and his ball went three feet over. Von Elm's putt was short. By holing out with his fourth the champion could win the match, but he pushed his putt and missed. Stein seized the chance and, with deadly percision, holed out for a four and was one down.

The immense gallery which followthe finalists had a great thrill. It was the keenest finish ever seen to a golf game in this city. Stein's supporters hoped to see him quare the match on the home green and force the match into extra holes.

That Lost Hole.

Von Elm had the best of it on the tee shots for the last hole. He went well up over the rise and just missed going into the rough by eighteen inches. Stein's drive was somewhat shorter, and his second fell ten yards short of the green. Von Elm's machie shot boverran the green and fetched up in the short grass under the trees. Stein was weak with his chip, and run and his ball stopped ten feet short of the pin. Von Elm's third left him outside, and his putt ran a few inches off to the left. Stein had his chance to square the match, but it was not to be, as he failed to sink his ball for a four.

Mrs. Sweeny Wins.

While the driving competition was in progress at the fifth fairway, the cry of "fore" went up and two golf balls dropped close together in the fairway. It was soon discovered that Mrs. Hutchings and Mrs. Sweeny were playing off their tie in the qualifying round. They both finished with the same number of strokes and it was decided to play an extra nine holes. The gallery became nearly as large as that which followed Stein and Von Elm. Mrs. Hutchings had a lead of two strokes at the seventh but she missed a short putt at the eighth and lost one and Mrs. Sweeny made it all square at the ninth. At the extra hole Mrs. Sweeny won holing out a 20-foot putt and winning by one stroke.

Late in the afternoon the prizes won during the tournament were presented by Mrs. J. A. Sayward. The array of prizes was the finest that has ever been presented at any athletic tournament held in this city. All the trophies were sterling silver.

Plenty of Congratulations.

On all hands could be heard congratulations to the officials of the Colwood Club for the wonderful success of the tournament. Neither expense nor time had been spared by the club in making the championships a success. The assistance rendered by the Victoria Golf Club also helped to make the event so tremendous.

The visitors claimed that it was the greatest tournament they had ever attended and complimented Victorians on the superb hospitality.

Thomas Wins.

Louie Lewis was the big goalgetter for the local team with three counters for his afternoon's work. Fleming got two and Mowatt the other goals.

Kroeger, McGregor and Brynjolfson got the Vics' scores. Only one penalty was handed out, Taylor getting a five-minute rest in the third period. Heck Fowler refereed the contest.

INCOGS TRAMPLE OVER CHAMPIONS

Victoria Hopelessly Beaten by Leaders of Cricket League This Season

Five C's Defeat Albions and Keep Pace With Incogs; Garrison Also Win

CRICKET LEAGUE STANDING.

	P.	W.	L.	Pts.
Incogs	5	4	1	8
Five C's "A"	5	4	1	8
Garrison	6	4	2	8
Albions	5	3	2	6
Victoria	5	2	3	4
Five C's "B"	5	1	4	2
Army and Navy	5	0	5	0

Victoria's chances of repeating in the Victoria and District Cricket League were materially lessened on Saturday when they took a very bad defeat from the Incogs, the club which has been showing the way all this season.

"Giddy" Goward, skipper of Victoria, realized that a lot depended on the outcome of Saturday's match and he persuaded several veterans of the pitch to turn out, including Heb Gillespie, Alexis Martin and G. C. Grant. But even the presence of this trio did not stop the rout. The Incogs were in their best form and dismissed Victoria for a mere 89 runs while they put on 198 for the loss of but five wickets.

Sparks's fast bowling proved absolutely too mystifying for the Victoria side and he took seven wickets for 39 runs, while Wenman wound up the rout by taking three wickets for 30.

Victoria Bowlers Off.

It was expected that Wilkinson and Goward, who showed such splendid trundling against Cowichan the previous week, would be able to hold the Incogs batsmen in check but were well nigh helpless. Wilkinson took four of the Incogs wickets but it cost him 72 runs, while Goward failed to get awicket although the score board showed 31 against him.

Allen was high man for the Incogs, getting 81 before Wilkinson bowled him. Wenman put on 63 and Goodday 28.

Five C's Keep Up.

The Albions and Five C's went to the mat to see which club would keep pace with the Incogs in the race for the Virtue Cup. Both teams were equal in the league standing. The Five C's obtained the verdict this time and are equal in all respects to the Incogs. The Garrison who also won on Saturday, have the same number of points as the Incogs and Five C's but they have lost one more game.

The Five C's batsmen were in superb form and they amassed 215 runs for nine wickets, Bredin topping the side with 54. The Albions were turned back for 82, Collett having the best bowling analysis of four wickets for 18 runs.

The Army and Navy came close to hanging up their first win of the season over the Garrison. They batted freely for 134 but the Garrison recovered in the last part of their innings and ran out winners.

GUN CLUB SHOOTS

The Esquimalt Gun Club held a practice shoot Saturday at its grounds, Admiral's Road. About 600 targets were trapped off, while fairly good scores were made. About a dozen members of the club were in attendance.

The club has been informed that the Vancouver Gun Club is holding a big trapshooting meet in the Mainland city on Friday and Saturday, June 30 and July 1. It is expected that trapshooters from various parts of the Province will congregate in Vancouver for this event at that time.

SAVING THE DAY FOR A HAPPY GROOM

For a youthful groom who had neglected to order his traveling suit, the four-day schedule of the Semi-ready special order service was beaten, and a record was made of a complete suit finished in a single working day. But the four-day schedule in the custom tailoring department means that 100 such suits are cut from the cloth, tailored to special order and delivered on the evening of the fourth day.

Mearns & Fuller offer the full service of the Semi-ready tailoring organization.

COLTS TO PRACTICE

The Five C's Cricket Colts will practice as usual this evening at Oak Bay, and they will be joined by some of the players in last year's junior inter-city match.

P. C. Payne, who is on the selection committee, invites all of last year's Victoria eleven to appear at Oak Bay this evening and join the practice of the Five C's Colts. Any boy who thinks he might be good enough candidate for this year's eleven is invited also.

COURT TOURNAMENT AT WILLOWS ENDS

Miss Archibald and J. G. Brown Victors in First Competition of Season

The first tournament of the season at the Victoria lawn tennis courts was concluded on Saturday, when Miss Laura Archibald and J. G. Brown secured the first position in the mixed doubles American handicap, for which 68 players entered.

In the first round four divisions were formed, the winners and runners-up in each division composing the final division on a re-handicap. The matches in the entire series of the first four divisions were well contested and contributed greatly to the enjoyment of the tournament. The final division, for which eleven pairs qualified, was eventually brought down to eight pairs by the withdrawal of three pairs, who found it inconvenient to play another series. The matches between the eight remaining pairs were very interesting and keenly contested and the tournament as a whole was a very great success.

Deserve Victory.

Miss Archibald and J. G. Brown deserve their victory for their consistent, steady play throughout the series. Mr. Brown's experience and heady play steadying his young partner and making an ideal combination.

Miss Swan and R. C. Burdick, who secured second place, made a good fight of it. Miss Swan plays a very steady and careful game, having won the American handicap with Mr. Brown two years ago. Mr. Burdick, her young and active partner, has all the earmarks of a coming player, and when he settles down to a more careful and studied play he will go far in the game.

Miss Wright and R. Burll, who made such a brilliant showing in their first division, were disappointing in their play in the final, and Mrs. Mogg and Mr. Walton, who were expected to lead the final division in point of games won, and did so, but not sufficient to carry them to a win.

As the scores which follow show, the competition was keenly contested and the handicapping exceptionally close, only two games dividing first, second and third.

Final Division.

Miss Wright and Mr. R. Burrill, 46.
Miss Watson and Rev. W. Carroll, 52.
Mrs. G. Mogg and Mr. G. H. Walton, 53.
Miss Archibald and Mr. J. G. Brown, 51.
Miss Hutchison and Mr. A. F. Mitchell, 56.
Mrs. F. E. Young and Mr. H. O. Littler, 54.
Mrs. Sharp and Mr. G. Mogg, 51.
Miss Swan and R. C. Burdick, 59.

Blue Bird Electric Washing Machine Demonstration All Week

The Day of the Washboard Is Over. A Perfect Method Takes Its Place

The Canadian-made Blue Bird Electric Washer operates on the oscillating principle, which, by continually forcing the water through and through fabrics, washes them clean without injury, wear or damage to even the frailest garments, and thoroughly washes even the heaviest blankets in from twelve to fifteen minutes.

While even the second tubful of clothes is being washed, the first has passed through the power-driven wringer operating at the same time, into the rinse water, again through the same wringer into the bluing water, and from the bluing water into the clothes basket.

If men had to do the weekly washing a Blue Bird electric machine would be in every home in Victoria.

There is not a woman who would not pay many times the cost of the machine to retain the bloom of her cheeks, the sparkle in her eyes and the ability to enjoy life and participate in the worth while things of home, unbroken by the ordeal of the washboard.

See the Window Demonstration. Have a machine sent to your home. Pay for it as you use it.

DOUBLE BILL AT ROYAL THIS WEEK

"Cops" is Starring Vehicle for Buster Keaton

"The Ten Dollar Raise" is Feature

A big double bill is being presented at the Royal Victoria Theatre this week when Peter B. Kyne's great story from the Saturday Evening Post entitled "The Ten Dollar Raise" will be shown, the other being a new side-splitting comedy featuring Buster Keaton in "Cops." This is one of the best bills that have been shown at this theatre for some time, and should be the medium of attracting good audiences at all performances.

Few producers of all-star pictures have been as fortunate as J. L. Frothingham in his selection of the remarkable cast for his initial Associated Producers production, "The Ten Dollar Raise," now being exhibited at the Royal Victoria Theatre.

Realizing the importance of a good cast Frothingham combed the available picture player world before deciding on the artists he desired to interpret Peter B. Kyne's famous Saturday Evening Post story.

William V. Mong, for years a star of the legitimate stage, and later scenario writer, director and one of the best known chracter men of the screen, was finally decided upon to portray the role of Wilkins, about whom the story revolves. Helen Jerome Eddy was chosen not only because of her reputation as a leading woman but because of her wonderful ability and her type.

Marguerite de la Motte, who plays the romantic ingenue lead, has made sensational hits opposite Douglas Fairbanks in his recent screen production and is known as one of the loveliest young women and best actresses among the younger artists. Pat O'Malley, who plays the romantic role of Jimmy, has long been a famous juvenile lead and is just the type a critic would pick for the role of good fellow and romantic lover.

These are supported by Charles Hill Mailes, Lincoln Plumer and Hallum Cooley, three of the best known character actors filmdom affords.

Another laugh riot has resulted from Buster Keaton's efforts in his latest two-reel comedy production, "Cops." Police appear in this picture in numbers never attempted before, the entire force of a large city seeking to arrest Buster for alleged crimes.

The picture opens with Buster proposing marriage to a girl, who refuses him because he is not a business success. Buster promises to go out and become a big business man, going into the junk business.

Through a series of clever laughing gags, Buster acquires a dilapidated horse and wagon, and a load of furniture and junk. He starts through the streets of the city to dispose of his wares, running into many complications.

In the meanwhile the annual police parade is moving down the streets of the city. Buster drives his misfit outfit into this parade and moves toward the reviewing stand where the mayor and his daughter are sitting. The daughter is the girl Buster wants to marry. The parade stops for a minute near the reviewing stand and a Bolshevik unloads a bomb from a rooftop, the bomb landing in Buster's wagon. Buster tosses the bomb into the street, where it explodes, wrecking the parade.

Buster is blamed for the bomb explosion and the police force starts after him. The rest of the picture has to do with the efforts of the police to capture Buster, who eludes them time after time through clever work that is certain to provide laughter.

"Cops" is the comedy feature of the programme which opens at the Royal Victoria Theatre, beginning to-day.

The picture moves very fast, is well connected and has all the necessary factors that go to make a great comedy.

GLORIA SWANSON NOW AT CAPITOL

Appears With Valentino in New Story by Elinor Glyn

That Gloria Swanson is a regular fellow in the realms of Shadowland was the verdict of her co-workers during the filming of "Beyond the Rocks," her latest Paramount starring vehicle which will be shown at the Capitol Theatre, all week.

This declaration was provoked when Miss Swanson became hostess to the entire company when the players were on location at Catalina Island, filming ocean scenes. After a dance in one of the leading hotels at Avalon, the principal city of the island, Miss Swanson invited the cast and staff to her apartment for a little get-together evening. Coffee and cakes were served and all enjoyed a delightful time.

Valentino co-stars with Miss Swanson, in "Beyond the Rocks," and is again the dashing, fiery lover playing the part of a young English baronet with Spanish ancestry.

HAS ROLE OF DOCTOR IN AYRES PICTURE

Conrad Nagel Will Star at the Dominion

Conrad Nagel, one of the most popular leading men of the screen, whose recent appearances in Paramount pictures have won him a large following of fans, plays opposite Agnes Ayres, star of the Paramount picture, "The Ordeal," which comes to the Dominion Theatre, all this week. According to Manager Robertson, of the Dominion Theatre, Mr. Nagel never has been cast to finer advantage in any photoplay in which he has been seen this season.

Mr. Nagel's role is that of a young doctor, and it is said to be a remarkably true to life character as its creator was himself a doctor. For before he became an author, W. Somerset Maugham was a graduate physician in Great Britain. In America, however, his medical skill would be a total loss as he is licensed to practice in England only.

Mr. Maugham has not "doctored" for some years as he has entirely given up the little black bag and stethoscope in favor of the typewriter, a medium with which he has written such remarkably successful plays and novels as "The Land of Promise," "The Moon and Sixpence," "The Circle" and "Of Human Bondage." Paul Powell directed the story which Beulah Marie Dix adapted for the screen.

DORIS MAY TO STAR AT COLUMBIA

Smart Set Farce Will Occupy Three Days.

For spice and pepper and all the other ingredients of a smashing comedy success all are respectfully advised to see "Boy Crazy," Doris May's latest R-C starring vehicle, beginning to-day at the Columbia Theatre. It will have an engagement of three days.

Miss May hits the high spots in fast-stepping comedy in this rollicking farce written direct for the screen and especially for the star by Beatrice Van. Laugh follows laugh when Doris, as Jackie Cameron, opens an ultra modern shop for men's apparel to combat the competition begun against her father's old fashioned dry goods store by a masculine dressmaker who suddenly arrives in town and captivates all the women folk. Jackie sees her daddy's store on the verge of ruin from the inroads made by the visitor so she changes it into an up-to-date shop a la Fifth Avenue. A great favorite with the young men of the town, she wins them over immediately and her establishment is swamped by an avalanche of trade.

Imagine the fun that results from the hot rivalry between Jackie and her men's shop and Harry Myers—for he is the he-dressmaker—and his establishment for women. Myers is a thoroughly masculine young man, be it known, and he is just as funny in "Boy Crazy" as he was in the leading role of the memorable comedy, "A Connecticut Yankee."

IN TITLE ROLE OF "JANE"

MISS EVA HART

is playing the title role in "Jane," the delightful comedy which is being produced all this week at the Little Theatre, Oak Bay, under the auspices of the Victoria Amateur Dramatic Society

To stand inside a walled crevasse of ice shooting a picture with a temperature so low that no thermometer could register it, was the experience of Chester Lyons, cameraman, who photographed the new Cosmopolitan picture "The Valley of Silent Men." "We stood for hours in the ice crevasse," said Lyons, "and then we'd come out and stand under water drips from above the mountain until icicles formed on our necks."

T. P. REGAN

President Good Roads Association of Manitoba, Director.

President Enunciates Policy to Govern Good Road Building Effort

Hon. S. J. Latta Points Out Good Roads Association Can Be of Great Assistance in Aiding Federal and Provincial Policies; Advantages and Limitations of a Voluntary Body.

The influence of the Canadian Good Roads Association upon the development of Canada in connection with highway construction, formed the theme of the presidential address delivered this afternoon by Hon. S. J. Latta, Minister of Highways for Saskatchewan to the Good Roads Association here.

The Association, he pointed out, notwithstanding its voluntary nature, yielded an enormous influence second to none in the country in dealing with highway transportation and construction.

He made reference to the location of a system of highways, the choice of types, the construction, the maintenance and the financing thereof, and said:

"Every act, every conclusion, every recommendation of the Dominion Good Roads Association will carry enormous weight in the formation of public opinion upon this great topic, and as its membership stretches from ocean to ocean, its viewpoint will be sufficiently broad to consider all phases, all interests of all localities of this great country, to the end that there may be no east, no west, no centre, but a united whole firm in the belief that the greatest good comes to each unit when the greatest good comes to all."

The Human Element.

Mr. Latta proceeded to point out that the human element "is Canada's great asset as it is of any country and its interest must therefore at all times and under all conditions be kept in the forefront in any scheme of development, whether such scheme touches production, industry or the accumulation of wealth of any kind."

The Great West.

He pointed out that in Saskatchewan alone "there are 210,000 miles of road allowances, a strip sufficiently long to encircle the globe eight times and have a few miles left over at that. On the principle that 60 per cent of the traffic passes over approximately 20 per cent of the road mileage, there are in Saskatchewan's system over 30,000 miles of main market roads, here again sufficient to go round the globe once and back again to the old land.

"The population of a little less than 500,000 is spread over an immense area. In 1911 the density of population was 1.95 people to a square mile.

"The land area of the three prairie provinces is estimated at 371 million acres. Over 121 million acres have been disposed of including sixty million for homesteads and thirty-eight million of Hudson's Bay Co. land.

"About 17 per cent of the land disposed of is under cultivation. In these provinces within 20 miles of a railway there are over 15 million acres of excellent vacant land, over 12 million acres within 15 miles, nearly nine million acres within ten miles and about 4½ million acres of fertile vacant land within five miles of railway facilities."

Road Construction.

Dealing with the problems of road construction, the president remarked:

"Road material in many localities is scarce and therefore the expense of transportation is so great as to compel the use of the earth close at hand. How best therefore to build a serviceable earth road must be faced and the problem must be solved. This alone is a matter calling for the most expert engineering knowledge so that the foundation laid may not represent wasted capital but capital expended in laying the foundation of a road bed that will be useful when the population and traffic demand a type of highway of higher quality.

"The shortness of the season, the difficulty of drainage, the scarcity of labor and other things must also be considered and the best means of solving these difficulties must be sought and found.

"Generally speaking there has been no proper planning of rural or urban areas.

"Canada's progress," he pointed out, "is seriously limited by the human asset sufficient to develop and distribute her material resources. The vital problem therefore is how best to increase this human element and conserve and develop it.

Other Factors.

"While it is freely conceded that no nation can be greater than its Christian ideal, that no citizenship can be more intelligent or virtuous than the quality and extent of its educational institutions, there are other material things woven and interwoven into the warp and woof of the nation's activities that bear a very important relation to and play a very important part in the conservation and development of progress, contentment and happiness," said Mr. Latta.

The president pointed out how important an effect was the location of the population, as influenced by railway transportation development and argued that the mistakes which had been made should be a corrective in the location of new lines of railway and a scientific plan of land settlement and rural and urban development.

He proceeded:

"Because of the lack of good roads and improper land settlement, the cost of the transportation of produce to railway points is often far in excess of the cost of railway transportation. It is asserted also by those who have given the matter consideration that the railway traffic at country points falls off in many cases to as much as 50 per cent during seasons when the roads are as a consequence, unfit for travel. The absence of proper road communication is probably the most serious handicap both to those who have money invested in railway industry and to those who live upon the land. In fact no railway system can serve the people for whom it is constructed to the maximum of efficiency unless co-related with it there is developed and maintained a system of good roads."

Thirteen Principles.

The thirteen principles which should dominate the development of highway location, said Mr. Latta, were:

1. The greatest good to the greatest number.
2. The most direct route possible for the traffic requirements.
3. The avoiding of sharp and dangerous curves.
4. The advantage of easy grades.
5. The minimum cost of construction.
6. Economy in cost of maintenance.
7. The correlation of each road selected and located to all other portions of the whole system.
8. The relation of the road as a feeder to the railway system.
9. The facility with which the road may be drained.
10. The proximity of road material.
11. Requirements for the future.
12. The necessity for bridges and culverts.
13. The money available for the project proposed.

Scientific Planning.

"The advantages of careful and scientific planning cannot be overestimated. It may be said, however, that a well planned road system will help to build up manufacturing industry, cheapen the cost of raw material, reduce the cost of living by bringing the rural resident within closer reach of the urban dweller, will help to attract settlement and elevate the social life of the community. These and a thousand and one other benefits will result, all of which will tend to raise the economic use of property to the maximum at the minimum of human effort, thus recognizing the principle that our human asset demands and deserves our first and most serious attention."

A Co-operative Enterprise.

Taking up in a careful review the question of bridges and roads, Mr. Latta argued against following too rigidly schedules of types and widths of highway and emphasized the importance of adequate drainage and sufficient maintenance. He claimed that the financing of highway construction was one of the largest problems with which the Canadian taxpayer had to deal.

"Generally speaking the financing of roads is a responsibility in the main shouldered upon the municipality. The function of the provincial administration is largely directive, educative, and assistive. In some provinces the government has undertaken the responsibility of constructing and maintaining certain provincial highways. The difference in policy, however, is largely resultant upon a difference of conditions or a difference of viewpoint. However, the responsibility may be distributed, the burden of bearing the load in the finality belongs to the taxpayer.

"In the matter of Dominion aid or provincial aid, it seems to me that certain principles ought to govern the distribution of funds. Road building is a great co-operative enterprise. The taxpayers of any given community—a municipality if you will—co-operate with each other in the interest of all. Two elements enter into the method of the distribution of funds to carry on the co-operative enterprise, first, ability to contribute, and second, the benefit derived from the utility provided. If this principle be sound, then provincial aid to the communities within the province ought to be given on the same basis. It is quite evident that a basis of population may not fulfil all the requirements of the purposes of co-operation. In like manner it may easily be shown that the distribution of federal aid by the Dominion Government among the provinces on the basis of population may be in many respects unjust and inequitable."

LOOKS FOR GREAT CONVENTION

S. L. Squire, Chairman of the Executive of the Good Roads League, is delighted to see the delegates assemble in Victoria, stating that as soon as the proposal to come here was mooted he determined to spare no effort to make the British Columbia meeting a success. Mr. Squire is attending his eighth annual meeting.

QUEBEC MINISTER OF HIGHWAYS HERE

Hon. J. L. Perron, M.L.C., First of Visiting Provincial Executives to Arrive

Old Province Taking Lead in Forward Road Movement

Hon. J. L. Perron, member of the Legislative Council for Quebec, and representative of the Government in the Upper Chamber, is delighted with Victoria, on the occasion of his first visit here. Madame Perron accompanied him. They visited Benvenuto and the Dominion Observatory on Saturday.

He stated to The Times yesterday that the Government of Quebec is engaged in an active effort to develop the road policy of the province. "Since 1910," said the Minister, "about $40,000,000 has been expended in road appropriations, and about $10,000,000 is planned to be expended in the present fiscal year. About one tenth of the 40,000 miles of highway in the province have been improved."

HON. J. L. PERRON
Minister of Highways for Quebec.

Mr. Perron stated that the general policy of the Government to road construction would be indicated in an address which he would deliver to the convention.

He stated, in answer to a question with regard to the transprovincial highways, that he expected the Quebec portion of the Montreal-Toronto highway to be so far advanced, with the necessary interprovincial bridge over the Ottawa River, to permit of its use in the Fall of 1923. The incompleted portions in Quebec were now in hand. Good progress was also being made with the Montreal-Hull road, to connect with the national capital. The connections with the American road system were being improved, as also the highway from Levis to the New Brunswick boundary.

"I am greatly pleased," said the Minister, "with the crop prospects in the prairie provinces, and with what I have seen in British Columbia so far."

AUXILIARY SESSIONS TO ACCOMPANY THE ROADS CONVENTION

Three Bodies Will Meet During Present Week Here

Three gatherings will be held coincident with the general convention of the Canadian Good Roads Association. One is the second annual interprovincial conference of highway officials on Tuesday for the purpose of affording officials of various governments an opportunity of exchanging ideas regarding the various problems facing such officials.

Special conference of local and provincial Good Roads Associations will be held on Wednesday afternoon to serve as a clearing house for the various activities, and to establish a closer relation in all matters of national good roads propaganda.

The second annual conference of municipal officials will be held on Wednesday afternoon.

The Programme.

At the inter-provincial conference of highway officials the subjects for discussion will be:

"Uniform Traffic Regulations, including Drive to the Right."
"Inter-provincial Highway Connections."
"Federal Aid."
"Calling for Tenders."
"Methods of Financing Good Roads, Bonding, etc."
"Restriction of Loads During Certain Periods."
"Methods of Road Maintenance."
"Necessity of Continuity in Road Improvement."
"Comparison of Provincial Motor Truck and Passenger Car Taxes."
"Who Should Pay for Road improvement? Equitable Distribution of Cost."
"Government Right to Determine Location of Highway."
"Government Erection and Control of Road Signs."

G. A. McNamee, of Montreal, who is accompanied by members of his family, states that a great reception was accorded the party across Canada. Several stayed off at Banff to explore the beauties of the National Park.

LURE OF THE GREAT NORTHLAND IS IRRESISTIBLE

Enchanting Land of Vast Silence Beckons Tourist

Waters of Famous Inside Passage, Lapping the Shores of British Columbia and Alaska For a Distance of One Thousand Miles, Blaze Trail to an Incomparable Northland.

An inland waterway of a thousand miles skirting a landscape of rugged beauty and gorgeous solitude. Snow crested ramparts of imposing majesty. Living barriers of ice slowly moving from glacial source. Jagged crags and shadowy canyons of deceptive heights and depths. Awe inspiring, yet wondrously beautiful and magnetically impressive. That is the gateway to the great Northland. It is a vast country of inpenetrable mystery and silent spaces. Much has been told about the spirit of the North. The fascination is there and it grips. The sourdough who mushes out in the Fall, hears the call each Spring and as surely as the snows begin to melt in the valley he drifts back into the mysterious North.

The Inside Passage which leads to this wonderful land of the mignight sun is a marine highway in an incomparable setting. Sun flecked waters ripple rhythmically against rockbound shores. Spraying waterfalls project themselves into a picturesque panorama. Timbered fastnesses from mountain ridge to waters edge and extending as far as the eye can reach. A gorgeous snowline of ever varying and most exquisite tints. Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle, the stepping-off places for the North, are hardly left behind before the traveler begins to "sense" the atmosphere.

Seymour Narrows.

Within a comparatively few hours of steaming up the Streat of Georgia is Seymour Narrows. At this point is the narrowest channel of water separating Vancouver Island from the mainland of British Columbia and is an exciting stretch of water to navigate at certain stages of the tide. The bridging of the Seymour Narrows to give rail connection from the mainland to Vancouver Island has been the subject of much controversy in the past and is still considered an engineering possibility.

Alert Bay.

Near the northern end of Vancouver Island is Alert Bay, a most picturesque spot nestling in a pretty bay on Cormorant Island. It is a typical Indian settlement famous for its totem poles denoting the ancestry or family stree of the native. Many of these tote mpoles have been sold by the Indians and Alert Bay thereby has lost some of its quaintest landmarks. There is much to interest the tourist at Alert Bay apart from the totems. There are still traces of Indian community halls but which are now more or less in a dilapidated state. The supports of these buildings were hewn by the Indians out of giant trees and there still stands perfect specimens of the axe-man's art. How these huge and lengthy crosstrees were elevated to position is one of the mysteries of the settlement. The Indian church, government hospital, salmon cannery, schools and the Indians themselves are of the greatest interest to the visitor.

Along Picturesque Lynn Canal

Crossing Queen Charlotte Sound and Millbank Sound the growing port of Prince Rupert is finally reached. These are the only open stretches of water on the inland water route of the British Columbia coast, and it is here that the open Pacific is glimpsed. The rest of the route is through comparatively narrow channels with mountainous sides running sheer down into the water.

Intricate Channels.

Intricate passages dotted with islands are navigated and to those who are not intimately familiar with the coastline it appears a veritable maze. The entrances to Queen Charlotte Sound are guarded by the sentinel lighthouses known as Pine Island and Egg Island. Another Indian village, Bella Bella is passed and on the mainland section of the coast not far distant is Ocean Falls, where one of the largest and most modern pulp and paper mills on the Pacific coast is located. The placid waters of Grenville Channel with its densely timbered coast and numerous waterfalls are followed and ultimately Prince Rupert is reached. Prince Rupert is the nearest Canadian port to the Orient and is a thriving centre of northern life. The fishing industry is the mainstay of Prince Rupert which is the distributing point for the fish caught in northern waters.

Dixon's Entrance.

Dixon's Entrance is crossed immediately after leaving Prince Rupert. This is the third and last stretch of open water of the thousand-mile cruise. To the east is passed the Indian settlements of Metlakatla. Not far away is Port Simpson, formerly a Hudson's Bay post and still boasting its fort.

Ketchikan

The first port of call in Alaska is Ketchikan, a fishing port with a population of 5,000. Five canneries and two cold storage plants are located here. The fishermen are composed largely of Scandinavians, and this is so largely throughout Alaskan waters. The falls of Ketchikan Creek are quite a feature where leaping fish can be seen endeavoring to find their way to the spawning grounds. In the late Summer months thousands of salmon ascend the creek falls and th eleaping salmon are a wonderful sight.

Wrangel.

From Ketchikan, Clarence Strait is traversed and after seven hours steaming Wrangel is touched at. Wrangel is an old Russian settlement and is located at the mouth of the Stikine River. It is now a centre of the lumber industry and is the distributing point for Prince of Wales Island and port of entry for the Stikine River territory. It is a big game country and the starting point for numerous hunting expeditions.

A section of the old Russian fortifications can still be explored by the traveler.

Mouth of Stikine.

Capt. J. W. Troup, manager of the Canadian Pacific Coast Steamship Service, when h eagain viewed Wrangel from the decks of the SS. Princess Louise on her recent maiden cruise to Alaska, recalled the early days when he supervised the construction of a number of sternwheel river vessels which were designed for what was then known as the "All-Canadian Route" up the Stikine River. These river boats were operated on the Stikine for about a year and we rethen laid up in Shaake's Bay, adjacent to Wrangel, later being sold for the Yukon River service.

Wrangel Narrows.

Shortly after leaving Wrangel the famous Wrangel Narrows are reached. Here the steamer steams at reduced speed through a narrow and tortuous strait, studded with reefs. Frequently vessels have to await the action of the tide before the channel can be safely navigated. The strait is well buoyed and lighted and its wooded banks and sharp turns are a never ending source of interest as the ship picks its way northward. The passage through Wrangel Narrows eliminates a lengthy detour around Cape Decision and across open ocean.

At the northern end of Wrangel Narrows is situated the fishing centre of Petersburg. Here again the population is Scandinavian and a number of canneries are located there. After passing Petersburg there is a noticebale change in the contour of the coastline. The channels get wider and the snow-capped mountains are not so heavily timbered.

Northern Lights.

The nights begin to lengthen out and the remarkable Alaskan sunrises and sunsets are a feature that will live long in the memory. Here is grandeur typical of Alaska. Traces of Russian rule are on every side. Alaska was a Russian possession until 1867 when the territory was purchased by the United States for $7,000,000.

In the latitude of Petersburg, across Frederick Sound and on the west side of Baranof Island is Sitka, one of the oldest settlements on the Pacific coast. The transfer of Alaska by the Russian Government to the United States Government was made at Sitka.

Taku Glacier.

Taku Glacier stands out as one of the most interesting sights of Alaska. It is a giant mountain of moving ice, 300 feet high and a mile wide, at the head of Taku Inlet. To be correct there are two glaciers at the head of the Inlet. One to the left is a "dead" glacier and is gradually receding. The other is a "live" glacier which continually moves forward, reflecting colors of rainbow hue as the sun moves across its glassy surface. Great masses of ice are continually breaking from the foot of the glacier, plunge into the sea with a deafening roar, and float away into the channels to the southward. The vibration caused by the engines of passing ships cause huge bergs to break away from the glacier. With a mile front, the Taku Glacier extends some ninety miles over the mountain range to link up with the Llewellyn Glacier.

Capital of Alaska.

Juneau, the capital of Alaska, is reached after a few hours' steaming up the Gastineau Channel. The city clings to the base of Mount Juneau, and in the earlier days was a thriving centre of mining activity. In the immediate vicinity of Juneau, driving at full blast a few years ago, were the famous Treadwell mines and the Alaska Gastineau. Now only the Alaska-Juneau mines remain in operation. Water flooded the Treadwell mines and resulted in the cessation of operations. This was the famous "Mexican" mine. Operations are still being carried on in a small scale at the "Ready Bullion" mine, adjacent.

Eleven millions were sunk into the Alaska Gastineau mine at Thane, an abandoned producer. The modern machinery of the Alaska Gastineau has been sold and is now being dismantled.

Opposite to Juneau at the head of the Gastineau Channel is the abandoned town of Douglas, once a busy mining centre. This is one of the pathetic scenes of Alaska. The Alaska-Juneau mine and mills is now the lone mining mainstay of Juneau.

Juneau is the centre of government in Alaska, and here resides Governor C. Scott-Bone. There is much fo interest the visitor. The city boasts modern public buildings and excellent roads.

Mendenhall Glacier.

A particularly interesting automobile drive exists to the face of Mendenhall Glacier, fifteen miles from Juneau, and Auk Lake. The Territorial Museum in the Alaska Brotherhood Hall in Juneau houses a wonderful Alaska collection, and the salmon hatchery is a point of interest.

There is some really wonderful scenery in the Lynn Canal after leaving Juneau for the final lap of the cruise to Skagway. The canal is eighty miles long and varies in width from one to five miles. Mountains of rock capped with snow, glacier after glacier and gushing cascades meet the eye. Passing Haines Mission, Skagway is finally reached, the gateway to the Yukon territory.

Skagway.

Skagway is a town that has loomed conspicuously in the history of Alaska. When the gold rush into the Yukon was started in 1896 the landing was made at Dyea, lying at the north of the westerly inlet which completes the Lynn Canal. From Dyea the trail led over the dangerous Chilcoot Pass, but word came of the discovery of the White Pass, and in a day 15,000 people left Dyea for Skagway, and in a day a large city had blossomed out of what hitherto had been chiefly swamp.

Located at the head of the Lynn Canal and at the foot of the White Pass, Skagway might be said to rest in a "funnel," and some terrible winds are experienced in the Winter. The Indian interpretation of Skagway is "much wind."

It was on the old pier at Skagway that the desperado "Soapy Smith" was shot to death, and his grave near the scene is still one of the "attractions" of the place.

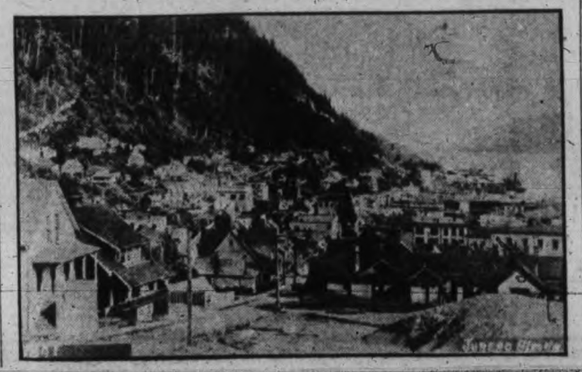

Another point of interest in Skagway is the "Pullen House," presided over by Mrs. Harriet Pullen, an interesting personality, who has been a resident of Skagway since the days of the gold rush. Pullen House is more than an hotel; it is a veritable museum.

All that now remains to Skagway is the tourist season and the shops of the White Pass and Yukon Route.

A suspension bridge has been built over the Skagway River to permit tourists to visit Fortune Bay and Smuggler's Cove. Smuggler's Cove takes its name from the fact that it figured as the headquarters of the "rum-runners" during the gold rush.

From Mount Dewey, which is easily accessible from Skagway, a magnificent view is obtained of the rock-lined Lynn Canal and the rugged panorama of mountain scenery.

Juneau, Capital of Alaska

History of Alaska.

It was in the year 1741 that the territory now known as Alaska was explored by Captain Vitus Behring and Captain Chirikov, two Russian officers. Up to that period the country was unknown. Thirty-three years later it was visited by Spaniards exploring the North Pacific coast, and in the year 1778, Captain Cook undertook surveys of the coast.

The first elaborate survey of that section of the coast was made by Captain Vancouver in 1793-94. The Russians formally assumed possession in 1799 when the administration of the territory was handed over to the Russian American Company, the chief resident officer being Alexander Baranof, who founded Sitka in 1804. Control by this chartered company terminated in 1861 when Prince Maksutov was appointed Russian Imperial Governor.

Six years later, in the same year as that in which Canada was confederated as a Dominion, the United States purchased Alaska from Russia for $7,200,000, in order to obtain control of the fisheries and fur trade, which at that time were the chief known resources of Alaska. The gradual discovery of mineral wealth culminated in the Klondike rush of 1897, and the rush to the goldfields of Nome in 1900, since when the mining industry has been stabilized.

Incomparable Northland.

Alaska, Atlin and the Yukon are vast territories fittingly described as the "incomparable Northland." A vivid picture of the early days of the gold excitement in the North is drawn by J. L. Burnside, in the "New West Magazine." Burnside says in part:

"With the discovery of gold in the Klondike in 1896 there resulted one of the greatest gold stampedes the world has ever known. Thousands were lured from the farm, and from the toil and turmoil of the city to this new Eldorado, little dreaming the hardships they must endure, the sacrifices they would be called upon to make, the blasted hopes they would experience in this mad rush for—just a chance to gamble with Nature for her golden treasures.

"The scenic beauty of the ocean voyage to Skagway, which for a thousand miles is an ever-changing panorama of Nature's wonders, was little appreciated nor long remembered by these men whose souls were filled with a lust for gold. They were in spirit far away in the land of promise which they had idealized in terms of gold, whose magic touch dispels all the ills of life. They had neither time nor inclination to note the charm of land or sea.

"Upon their arrival at Skagway what little pleasure, if any, they had experienced faded from view, for it was here they came face to face with the hard, cold facts of pioneer life. The trip over the Pass meant days of torture and nights of anguish and a weary trudge over a precipitous path where only too often a toll of life was taken.

"And so, ever confronted by new hardships they journeyed for hundreds of miles, through the blizzards of the Northern Winter and across a country barren of human habitation.

"They suffered, starved and triumphed together. They mingled their sorrows and their joys, their hopes and their ambitions. And while fortune frowned on many yet to others she gave her sweetest smile. And in the hope that they might some time be the favored ones, the less fortunate were inspired with that grim determination to win, that faith and confidence that are to-day attributes of the Alaskan and are the 'prophecy of a Mighty Empire to be.'

Scene Has Changed.

"Since that time, however, the scene has changed; palatial vessels by the waters of the inside passage, the iron trail of the White Pass & Yukon Route now follows in the very footsteps of these hardy pioneers; river steamers of the most modern type traverse the mighty Yukon and its tributaries for over three thousand miles; lake steamers, whose speed and comforts equal those of the ocean vessels, sail the waters of Lake Atlin, the beauty spot of the world.".

There is probably no trip in the world so unusual—so interesting—so intensely worth while as that to Alaska, Atlin and the Yukon. Every mile is of vivid interest.

Here in this Northland Nature has risen to a supreme effort and with a lavish hand strewn her gifts as nowhere else.

Here are mountains miles high. Here are mighty glaciers—living giants eternally pushing into the sea—huge bergs breaking off and floating away on the water. Here are verdant hills, great rivers, countless islands, innumerable cascades and waterfalls, rapids, canyons and gorges. Here are lakes of wondrous beauty on whose mirror-like surfaces are reflected pictures of inexpressible grandeur And wild flowers are everywhere. Here, too, are Indians and their weird totem poles—interesting gold mines and fox farms.

And here, too, the residents will greet you with a warm welcome and many an interesting story they can tell of the early days in Skagway and Dawson when that greatest of all gold stampedes was on to the Klondike.

Not only is there a most delightful and exhilarating Summer climate but added to it all, especially as you sail down the Yukon, is the fascinating charm of nightless days—yes, even the unique experience of seeing the sun at midnight.

And all of this incomparable Northland scenery may be viewed from the deck, or from one's comfortable seat in the observation room of the ocean, lake and river steamer, or from one's arm chair in the parlor observation car on the railroad.

The Steel Trail.

The steel trail into the Yukon—the White Pass and Yukon Route—slips away into the Skagway canyon and winds its way over Nature's barriers into the great Canadian territory tributary to the mighty Yukon River. In the twenty miles between Skagway and the Summit at White Pass the railroad has a 4 per cent grade. It is a wonderful feat of engineering skill put through within a year by Michael J. Haney, one of the most remarkable railroad figures of his day and one of the outstanding men of the pioneering days of the North.

The length of the railway, which clings to mountain sides and crosses yawning gorges on its winding way over the great range, is but 110 miles, but it is one of the most thrilling railroad rides in the world. From its tracks and within the comfortable railroad cars can plainly be seen with the naked eye the old White Pass trail, where men mad with the lust for gold played with death to cross. To-day there is a steel railway bridge over 200 feet above the waters of Dead Horse Gulch, so named because of the many horses which were left to die after being hurled over the precipitous sides of the Pass.

Abounds With Thrills.

The railway ride over the White Pass could not be more interestedly described than by John J. Underwood in his book "Alaska—An Empire in the Making." He says: "This road is one of the greatest engineering feats in the world."

A trip over it is one to be remembered. It is full of thrills from the time the train enters the Skagway River Valley till the top of the summit is reached. The austere mountains above, the flower-bestrewn valley below, make the journey a most captivating one. The train at times glides along the side of a sheer wall, with a cliff of rock hundreds of feet high on one side and the dark depths of an abyss on the other. The rocks jut out at sharp angles from the precipitous wall on the side of the roadbed and it appears as though the speeding cars must dash over the cliffs but they swing around a curve and the train continues on its sinuous ascent. Water that is hungry green and later white with foam is seen here and there all along the route and in one place, just beyond a dark tunnel, a very high bridge has been thrown across a chasm at the bottom of which rages the Skagway River crashing over the boulders to the sea.

"Twenty miles from Skagway, beyond the summit of the range, a bronze monument marks the boundary between American and Canadian territory. Here the flags of the dominant Anglo-Saxon races float side by side."

On the way to the Summit the train passes many points of unusual scenic, as well as historic, interest.

A little over six miles from Skagway the old Brackett wagon road is crossed. This wagon road which led to the then White Pass City was projected to reach the summit of White Pass, but was abandoned when the railroad was completed. A short distance beyond is Rocky Point, also called Porcupine Hill, where a huge rock or rather a shoulder of the mountain was blasted away. Looking back down the valley a splendid view is had of Skagway and Lynn Canal.

Hanging Rocks.

Then comes into view the "hanging rocks" at Clifton, under which the train passes. Beyond are the Pitch Fork Falls—a scene of rare beauty. On the other side of the valley are the Bridal Veil Falls.

About thirteen miles from Skagway down in the valley may be seen a few log cabins—all that remains of what was once known as White Pass City. During the Klondike rush this ephemeral town contained about 3,000 people living mostly in tents.

Glacier Gorge is next which the train follows but over one thousand feet above it. As the train climbs Tunnel Mountain a wonderful panorama of awe-inspiring scenery is unfolded—the Sawtooth Mountains—Dead Horse Gulch and deep, deep down is the rushing glacier stream and here and there glimpses of the old White Pass trail. Just beyond the train passes through a short tunnel, the only one on the line.

Inspiration Point.

Seventeen miles from Skagway by rail but only 12 in an air line is Inspiration Point and a truly inspiring panorama of Alaska's matchless scenery is beheld from here. Looking back through a cleft in the mountains Lynn Canal is seen again, now looking like a little lake nestling amongst the mountains.

Just before the Summit is reached the train crosses the steel cantilever bridge, 215 feet above the rushing mountain stream. From here is afforded another magnificent view.

Along the shores of sun kissed lakes and mountain streams banked by great masses of fire weed, larkspur, asters, marguerites and other wild flowers, the train continues on its way until the upper end of Lake Bennett is reached—and here is the now deserted town, also named Bennett. Time was when it teemed with life and excitement, when thousands of men were building all manner of water craft to sail down the Yukon to the gold land of their hopes, the Klondike.

For twenty-seven miles the railway follows the ever winding shores of this lake, the rose colored mountains on the opposite side rising sheer out of the water to a height of 5,000 feet or more. The ride along the shores of this beautiful Northland lake is one long remembered. En route the 60 degree of north latitude is crossed—the boundary between British Columbia and the Yukon Territory.

Lonely Sentinels.

People living on the southern shores of British Columbia may be forced to stretch their imagination to believe the extent of this great Province, but at White Pass British Columbia is still on the map. Here the boundary is marked by the flags of Canada and the United States, fluttering side by side on parallel flagpoles. A bronze monument stands a lonely sentinel. On one side of the line is the Canadian station with a stalwart member of the Canadian Mounted Police on watch. He occasionally visits the American soldier stationed but a few yards over the line, and the agent at the isolated depot at White Pass, completes a merry little international company. Then there is "Carl, the eight-months-old husky attached to the Mounted Police quarters, who up to May 24 last had never seen a party of tourists. Taxi is a noble dog and in stature equals the St. Bernard's of the Alps.

Along the "Rim."

Running for a number of miles along a snow-covered belt which gives the impression of being the "rim of the world," and at Pennington Cross, the railway passes into the territory of the Yukon.

Lake Bennett.

Lake Bennett, a wonderful mountain lake of innumerable and incomparable reflections, is followed by the railway for a distance of 27 miles. Then comes Carcross, Nares Lake, Lewes and other small lakes, and then Miles Canyon and the White Horse Rapids. On the brink of this famous gorge mental pictures are refilmed of the bold adventures on clumsy rafts and in poorly constructed boats who whirled into the swift and dangerous waters in their mad rush towards the Klondike.

At Whitehorse.

At Whitehorse the faint but continuous roar of the rapids reaches the ear. Here is the terminus of the railway division of the White Pass and Yukon Route, and the point of departure for the wonderful steamer trip by the company's route down the Yukon to Dawson. From Whitehorse to Dawson is a river cruise of 461 miles and the trip occupies some 48 hours. It is a voyage unique.

On to Atlin.

Carcross, on the White Pass Railway, is the parting of the ways leading to Atlin, eight-two miles through a chain of sapphire lakes and mountain and forest scenery that for sheer beauty packed into a short distance probably cannot be duplicated in any section of the world. Trim little lake steamers are again the means of transportation after leaving the railroad.

Winding through Tagish Lake the steamer traverses Windy Arm and then enters that beautiful sheet of water known as Taku Arm.

A splendid view is afforded of Jubilee Mountain, which projects its snow-capped head into the clouds. After steaming through the Golden Gate and up Taku Inlet the boat makes a landing at Taku, where a short portage by rail along the bank of the roaring Atlintoo River brings into view the west shore of Atlin Lake.

Here connection is made with a twin-screw motorboat which makes the six miles run across Atlin Lake to Atlin, the base of supplies for one of the richest hydraulic mining camps in British Columbia. Facing the lake is Atlin Inn, built, and recently enlarged, for the tourist trade into the lake country. One of the finest trips from Atlin is the excursion on the "Tarahne," which propels its winding way through the narrow mountain-girt passages of the West Channel. The boat then passes out through Copper Island Narrows and the return is made down the other side of these islands on Lake Atlin where a magnificent view is obtained of the Llewellyn Glacier and the Coast Range.

Another beautiful scenic trip is to West Taku Arm, which is a journey into the very heart of primeval surroundings, where giant mountains raise their lofty peaks from the glittering glacial waters of the West Taku Arm, which ends at what might be termed the "back door" of the famous Taku Glacier.

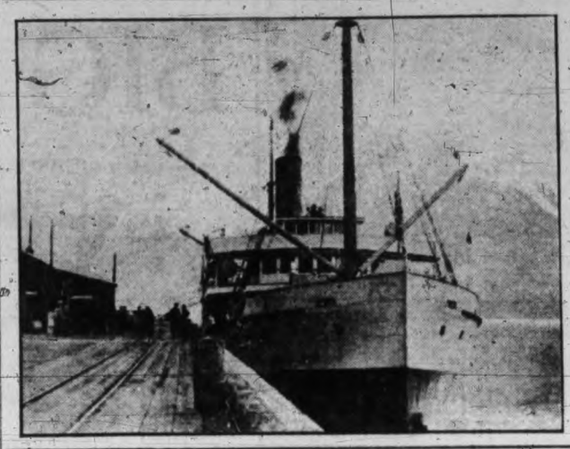

Hunter's Paradise.

Northern British Columbia, Yukon Territory and Alaska offer a wonderful variety of hunting to the sportsman. Nature has richly endowed its mighty mountains, expansive inland seas, vast areas of trackless wilderness and lonely tundra, with giant moose, lordly elk and caribou, deer, silvertip grizzlies, mountain sheep and goats and many other forms of wild life. Fishing offers an interesting diversion to big game hunting. The rivers of the North are well stocked with the gamest trout and the mountain lakes of unequalled beauty combine to make this "roof of the world" a veritable paradise for the sportsman. Over a dozen varieties of bear are to be found in the northern mountain domain, ranging from the huge polar bear and savage Kodiak down through the different species to the common black bear.

The northern moose are the largest members of the deer family and are to be found in large herds. Caribou are also abundant and inhabit the treeless and tundra sections of the interior. Mountain sheep and goat are among Alaska's most prized game animals.

Alaska not only has opened up excellent hunting districts within its boundaries, but is the gateway to other important big game fastnesses in the Yukon Territory and Northern British Columbia.

NORMAL PRICES ARE REPORTED IN BUTTER

Season Discouraging; Eggs Are Falling Off; Prices Advance

Butter quotations are back to normal. At least as normal as they can expect to be at this late date in the season. The warm weather and the increased demand for butterfat by the ice cream manufacturers have offset any further decline that might have been expected. The prices are not back to the low rate they were at when they commenced their climb, but they are as low as can be expected under the conditions. Local butter has gained in popularity since the utilization of these brands during the shortage. A fluctuation was registered among the butter products to-day, when Fraser River valley butter denoted a drop of five cents in their figure. This commodity is now demanding 45 cents a pound.

"Eggs are falling off" was the statement made by one of the leading retailers at the commencement of trading this morning, while at the same time he marked the prices of eggs up two cents on the dozen. The warm weather, together with the commencement of moulting amongst poultry, is causing the falling off in the supplies.

Smoked meats indicated an advance at the hands of the retailers this morning when they were forced to advance their figures on smoked meats on account of the advance in grain fed pork, and the additional tax introduced in the budget. From two to three cents was the advance quoted. The quotations are as follows:

VERY WEAK WHEAT MARKET TO-DAY

(By Burdick Bros., Ltd.)

Chicago, June 12.—To-day was a bad one for holders of wheat as the market was a declining one from the start. July wheat broke practically 5 cents and the Sept. 3½. The close was weak and at the bottom prices of the day. Fine growing weather and weak foreign markets, coupled with the extreme weakness in security market at New York, helped to depress values.

TO-DAY'S TRADING IN WINNIPEG MARKETS

Winnipeg, June 12.—In line with Chicago, to-day's trade in the local wheat market showed considerable weakness and prices here continued to fall after a low. Private cables were reported to be disappointing, indicating only a very ordinary demand, while the regular European cables showed Liverpool wheat ½ to ⅝ lower. The market acted as if it was heavily over sold at times, probably as the result of the period of liquidation which has just passed. The general belief prevails that any extreme weather changes will be a price changing influence, while many feel that it is reasonable to continue an improved export and domestic demand on further declines.

At the close premiums were lower for Nos. 1 and 2 Northern, ¼ for No. 3 and unchanged to ½c lower for other grades. There was little doing in the cash oats and premiums ¼ to ½ cent lower. Barley and rye were quiet, while a good demand existed for No. 1 flax from Canadian crushers. Inspections totalled 178 cars, including 82 cars of contract wheat.

HURRICANE KILLED SIXTY IN THE NEW YORK AREA

hit it. Casualties occurred off Execution Light, which is about six miles east of City Island, and Bat Island, about three miles east, and another island nearby.

It is estimated that no fewer than 10,000 persons were fishing off these places when the storm broke. After it had passed and the sky cleared, the waters of Pelham Bay and Long Island sound were dotted with overturned rowboats, launches, canoes and yachts.

The police immediately started the work of rescue. At 9 o'clock last night, eight bodies had been recovered.

A Panic.

After the ferris wheel had collapsed there was a panic among the hundreds of men, women and children at the resort. Amid the lightning, the thunder's roar and the rain torrents, women fainted and men fought and children were brushed aside in frantic efforts to reach shelter and to lose sight of the ghastly pile that shortly before had been a wheel of merriment.

But many rushed to the wreckage, trying madly to extricate the bodies of the living, the dying and the dead. Efforts were made to telephone for ambulances and physicians, but the storm had taken the wires.

Automobiles were commandeered and sent to nearest hospitals, miles away, and soon a corps of physicians, surgeons and nurses was at the park. Four ambulances responded and they worked in relays removing the injured.

Buildings Blown Away.

Many of the frail buildings of the concessionaries in the park were blown away or badly damaged and as the bodies were taken from the wreckage of the wheel, they were placed on the bathing pier. After an hour, more than 40 persons had been extricated. Five were dead and a number of others were said to be dying.

Members of the crew operating the wheel declared that the storm broke so suddenly that it was impossible to remove passengers. They said about sixty persons were in the cars when the storm struck.

The dead were taken from the cars that were thrown into the sound. The wheel, 100 feet in diameter, was constructed only recently, park officials said, and was considered one of the best in the country.

It was said the wind reached a velocity of eighty-eight miles an hour.

Miss Ada Smith, walking with a companion along the reservoir road at Ossining, was blown into the water and drowned.

Died of Heart Failure

Charles Emerson, New Rochelle, a clothing manufacturer, was rowing in Echo Bay with his wife and three children when the storm broke. He managed to row to shore, then died from heart failure.

A tree fell on a party of motor tourists seeking shelter on the Brookville Road, near Louise Valley, Long Island, killing Harry Halleran, of Oyster Bay, and seriously injured his three companions.

Unable to reach shore in the stiff wind, Jack Lowenthall, twenty, was drowned while swimming in East River.

A massive decayed tree on the New York-Westchester County Line at Mount Vernon fell, crushing to death Mrs. Cassie Cacavallo and her infant son.

SEVERE BREAK IN STOCK MARKET

(By Burdick Bros., Ltd.)

New York, June 12.—The stock market from the outset was a weak affair, and as the session progressed the momentum on the downward grade increased the closing prices being the lows for the day. In every department of the list selling was very much in evidence, and the market running into stop loss orders on the long side helped very much in breaking the whole list. Support was lacking and at no time during the day did prices even attempt at rallying. The action of the market again to-day, as in the closing days of last week, has chilled bullish enthusiasm to a marked degree. The volume of liquidation being very large, it is quite likely that the market as a general proposition may have to contend with a continuance of realizing sales for some time yet.

HIGHER WOOL PRICES FEARED IN EAST

New York, June 12.—While further advances are forecast as a result of the American Woolen Company withdrawing its lines the trade is of the opinion that this is more of a tactical move than anything else. The company has about enough orders to keep up steady production through the rest of the season, it is stated, but wishes to make the Spring opening quotations seem less abrupt, when they appear.

In other words the market is counting upon much steeper prices to be named on lightweight goods for next year and can see a move in the withdrawal of the American lines to introduce them piecemeal.

At the present time increased price strength is to be noted in the worsted division as the call for staples grows larger.

PRACTICAL PRACTICE.

"How weary I am of waiting for our dear little home!" sighed the girl after a five years' engagement.

"It is a pity I am such a pauper," he remarked gloomily.

"Ah, George," she whispered in dulcet tones, "I do not fear poverty. I will give up dancing when we are married, and learn to cook instead."

His face brightened, but he was a very thrifty soul.

"Hadn't you better begin to practice now?" he said eagerly. "You see, dear, your father would be supplying the raw material."

SUZANNE AND COCHET WIN FRENCH TITLES

Paris, June 12. — Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen successfully defended her title as women's singles tennis champion of France on Saturday by defeating Madame Golding, the challenger, 6-4, 6-0 in the concluding match of the French hard court championships.

Mrs. Mallory and her partner, Miss Edith Sigourney, of Boston, were defeated in the final round of the women's doubles by Mrs. Edgeton and Miss Mamsey, of England.

Cochet, France's youthful tennis wonder, wrested the men's singles championship from Jean Samazeuilh, 1-6, 6-3, 7-5. Samazeuilh won the title from M. Gobert last year.

Mlle. Lenglen will take a complete rest until she leaves for the international tournament at Wimbledon, England, next Saturday. She will be paired with Miss Elizabeth Ryan, of Santa Monica, California, in the women's doubles, and with Wood in the mixed doubles, which she captured last year with Gerald Patterson as her partner.

Montreal, June 12.—Joe Kelly, agent for the New York American League team, has made an offer of $3,500 for Ed. Singher, local player, and the only Parisian Frenchman swinging a bat in organized baseball yesterday, it is announced by President Joe Page, of the Eastern Canada Baseball League.

HOOVER FAILED TO ESTABLISH RECORD

Philadelphia, June 12.—Delvers into athletic statistics have discovered that Walter Hoover's time of 7 minutes 24 seconds in winning the Philadelphia Challenge Cup, emblematic of the world's amateur single sculling championship, over the mile and a quarter course was not a world's record.

William Neirhof, of the Nassau Boat Club, New York, won the single sculling event of Detroit in 1909 in 7 minutes 19 2-5 seconds. A short time later John W. O'Neill, of the St. Mary's A. A., Halifax, N.S., won the championship single sculls in Nova Scotia in exactly the same time.

Calgary, June 12.—By breaking even in the Saturday double-header, Calgary terminated its lengthy home stay at the head of the league, having a margin of one and a half games over Edmonton.

Eskimos staged a ninth inning rally after two were down to score four runs and win the afternoon game, 6 to 2, but the Bronks took kindly to Hagerman's offerings, and with Dodger Lewis, the product of Calgary amateur ball, hurling in great form, they stepped out in the twilight fixture for a 6 to 4 victory.

AEROPLANE MAIL SERVICE FOR YUKON

Considered at Ottawa, But Will Not Be Started at Once

Ottawa, June 12. — (Canadian Press)—The Postmaster-General has under consideration a proposal to establish an aerial service to the Yukon, but he does not hold out much hope of it being put into effect immediately. He made this statement in the Commons in reply to a plea for a better mail service by Dr. George Black, who represents the district.

This and other statements were made by Hon. Charles Murphy during the discussion of a vote of $28,839,000 for the Post Office Department.

At the ouset of the discussion, Hon. H. H. Stevens urged the Postmaster-General to investigate the handling of the mails with a view to giving the National Railways a preference.

Mr. Murphy said that an inspector of the department would make a tour of the country during the coming Summer with the object of seeing what improvement could be made. The Canadian National would be given a preference wherever possible, with due regard for economy.

J. S. Woodsworth, Labor, Winnipeg Centre, urged on the Postmaster-General the need of increasing the pay of some of the postmen. He said $600 or $700 was not sufficient for a decent living.

Mr. Murphy said that this matter was under consideration but that the salaries were fixed by the Civil Service Commission.

Mr. Woodsworth was challenged from the Liberal side to say whether he would support a change in the law in this regard. He replied that he would.

The item carried.

MINISTERS IN LONDON GUARDED, DECLARES PAPER

London, June 12.—The Sunday Herald said several members of the British Cabinet were being heavily guarded by special detectives from Scotland Yard as a presumed result of renewed activity on the part of the Irish extremists. Winston Spencer Churchill, Secretary of States for the Colonies, was declared to be one "placed under protection." Some Ministers, the newspaper asserted, had received anonymous letters making threats against them if the Irish negotiations did not result favorably.

PLAN CUT IN SCHOOL STAFFS

Reduction Expected to Save City $16,000 a Year

Annual School Report Shows Big Attendance Growth

The staff of the Victoria High School will be reduced by three teachers and the staff of the graded schools by nine or ten teachers with the commencement of the Fall term in September, it is announced in the annual report of the City School Board, first copies of which are out to-day. By reducing the staffs in this way, unless attendance conditions change materially, the Board will be able to save $16,000 a year, it is stated.

The total teachers' payroll for May, 912, amounted to $34,652.50 for the 211 teachers employed, according to the Board's report. Thus Victoria teachers are paid on an average approximately $164 a month for ten months in the year. The number of teachers employed has grown from 118 in October, 1911, to 211 now, the report says. The Board's total expenditure amounted to $451,007.91 in 1921, as against $164,768.10 in 1911; but the school attendance also has almost doubled in that time. The average enrolment for 1921 was 6,172, the report states, as against 3,531 in 1911.

Receive Heavy Fees

The extent to which the High School takes care of the needs of the outlying districts is shown by the report with the statement that the city received $8,813.20 in payment for attendance of non-resident pupils at the High School last year. "This sum," the report says, "is not credited by them to the schools' account, although the service given necessitates the employment of at least three additional teachers and does not entail cost of any kind to any other city service."

Property owned by the School Board is now valued at $1,468,979.04, according to the Board's report, which, by the way, is illustrated by pictures of the High School and the Victoria College at Craigdarroch.

PILLORY IS NOW THE TOP-MONEY WINNER

New York, June 12.—Pillory, carrying 126 pounds with C. R. Miller in the saddle, galloped home an easy winner of the historic Belmont stakes at Belmont Park on Saturday. Snob II., ridden by C. Kumer, was a tired second, two and a half lengths behind.

He was an easy third over Ray Jay, the only other starter. The time, 2.18 4-5, was comparatively slow, due to the deliberate early pace set by Snob, who showed the way for a mile and three-sixteenths. Pillory won the $51,000 Preakness at Pimplico on May 13.

Immediately after the Belmont stakes, running, Morvich was sent an exhibition mile in 1.39 with Johnson, in the Benjamin colors, in the saddle.

Pillory's Preakness and Belmont victories enabled him to top money winners of the year.

"Papa, did Walter call on you this morning?" an enamored young girl said to her matter-of-fact business father.

"Yes, but I couldn't make out much of what he said," the father replied.

"Couldn't make out what he said?" the girl inquired. "What do you mean, papa?"

"Well," explained the father, "as near as I could understand it, Walter said he wanted to marry me; that you had enough money to support him; and that we had always loved each other; so I told him to go home and write it in plain English."

SOMETHING SURPRISING.

"Yes, I still have the first pound note that I made," said the grey-haired passenger.

"Good gracious!" exclaimed his travelling acquaintance, "how did you keep it so long?"

"Well, it was very imperfect, being my first, and I'd have had trouble in passing it."

FOREST OFFICIAL HERE SATURDAY

H. D. Tiemann, Dry Kiln Expert, Arrived on Makura

Had Been Conferring With Australian and New Zealand Officials

Among those who arrived on the Makura on Saturday was H. D. Tiemann, dry kiln expert of the United States Forest Service and Forest Products Laboratory of Madison, Wisconsin, who has been conferring with the officers of the Australian and New Zealand forest services.

Seasoning of Timber.

Mr. Tiemann explained that he had been visiting Australia at the request of the Victoria Forest Commission, who had retained his services from the United States Government for the purpose of obtaining his advice in regard to the kiln-drying or seasoning of native timbers. He spent seven months in Victoria, a month in Western Australia, and some time in Tasmania, giving lectures and conducting experiments of an extensive and varied character in the drying kilns.

While in Australia he had been engaged by the New Zealand Government, in conjunction with the milling interests of the Dominion, for the purpose of inspecting the drying kilns and giving advice as to their proper management, pointing out where errors had been made. He has been a little less than two weeks in the Dominion, but had devoted a great deal of the time to lectures and discussing with millers, manufacturers, architects and engineers the utilization of native timbers. On his way north from Wellington he visited a number of the timber areas along the Main Trunk Railway line, and inspected the mills and kilns, afterwards going to Rotorua.

Kiln Drying.

The object of kiln drying, he stated, perhaps not so much to shorten the time of seasoning as to ensure that the timber was properly seasoned. Unless it was done properly great losses were likely to occur through cracking, honeycombing and warping, resulting in imperfections after the article had been manufactured. It seemed to him that a great improvement in the use of New Zealand timbers would be brought about by a better understanding of the principles of seasoning woods.

Preservation of Timber.

Discussing the steps now being taken in the Dominion in the matter of forestry, Mr. Tiemann said that New Zealand was very wide awake on the question of the utilization of timber. This provided an adequate reason for the establishment of an experimental laboratory. The New Zealand Forest Service was well organized and working along the right lines, but it would need all the support of the wood-using industries. Forestry meant the best utilization of the land for the continuous production of timber for whatever purpose, but it must always be considered as a fixed and permanent establishment. In that respect forestry differed from agriculture, in which the crops could be altered from year to year.

It was essential that fire should be kept out of the forest areas, continued Mr. Tiemann, and unfortunately there had been enormous losses in New Zealand from this cause, although the position here was not as bad as in Australia, where he had noted an appalling apathy.

FROM THE EDGE OF THE ADIRONDACKS

J. A. Flanagan Represents New York State Conservation Commission

Something of what can be done to develop a great mountain park reserve was told to The Times last evening by J. A. Flanagan of Malone, New York, who comes to the Good Roads convention representing the Commission of Conservation of New York State, and the Adirondack Reserve Association. He is a leading hotel man of that section.

Malone is practically on the northern boundary of the state of New York, centrally located between the St. Lawrence River and Lake Champlain. Thus it is closely bound up with the tourist travel between the United States and Canada, particularly that part which runs via Plattsburg from Montreal to New York.

Mr. Flanagan won his title of "Good Roads Flanagan" as the pioneer of the movement for county road organization, as his county, Franklin, took the lead in a system which had now spread widely. Not merely is he interested in the local movement of travel by automobile between Canada and the United States, but he is equally interested in great arterial highways across the two sections of the northern part of this continent. For that reason he is closely identified with the Theodore Roosevelt International Highway Association, to run from Portland, Oregon, to Portland, Maine, 4,000 miles. This body has an organization in 13 states, including one province of Canada, Ontario. More than $5,000,000 was spent upon it in 1921 in ten of the states.

Mr. Flanagan has been identified with the Canadian Good Roads Association for some time, believing, he says, that the interests of both Canada and the United States in road construction are of the closest character.

He comes from a part of New York state where the districts are seriously hampered with snow in Winter, and he hopes to be in a position to tell the convention something of the county grant system inaugurated to keep roads open during the months of Winter." Why should we not get twelve months' use of roads. In New York state there has been made an investment of $300,000,000 on roads, why then not use them the whole season through?" he remarked.

Mr. Flanagan is a leading publicity man in his home district, and says publicity pays, particularly in countries possessing fine scenery.

WELSH SHIPPING OWNER IN CITY

Head of Evan Thomas, Radcliffe & Co. Here from Mexico

Victoria had for a brief period yesterday a leading British shipowner as visitor. Daniel Radcliffe, head of the firm of Evan Thomas, Radcliffe & Company, arrived from the South and proceeded on the evening boat to Vancouver.

Mr. Radcliffe has held many positions of distinction, having been ex-Sheriff of the County of Glamorgan, in which county Cardiff is situate, where his offices are located.

Mr. Radcliffe, who is also interested in the coal trade in South Wales, is head of the Bristol Channel Pilotage Commisston and of several other marine organizations, and during the war had charge of a number of important organizations.

The importance of the business he carries on will be gauged by the fact that nineteen ships of his company were sunk by German torpedoes during the war.

He stated to The Times yesterday that the conditions in Western Mexico and California, which he has just visited, are considerably affected by the industrial unrest, but that there is every prospect that they will adjust themselves with world reconstruction. He points out that it will take a considerable time for the British trade unions to recognize that Britain must produce if she should desire to meet European competition on a fitting scale.

He has been tremendously impressed with the developments of the whole Pacific Coast.

MAINLAND CHURCH ENDORSES MAYOR'S SABBATH POLICY

Commends Firm Stand; Agitation at Standstill Now; No Names Taken

With Sunday closing troubles at a standstill here, pending a decision by Magistrate Jay on Sunday closing cases, Sunday closers outside Victoria are taking a hand in the Sabbath fight. To-day a letter from Kerrisdale Baptist Church, near Vancouver, endorsing Mayor Marchant's firm stand against Sunday trading, was received at the City Hall.

"At a church meeting held on May 31 I was instructed to write you on behalf of our church and commend you for the stand taken in regard to the observation of the Lord's Day Act," wrote A. S. Davidson, clerk of the church.

Now that the Mayor is away police are doing nothing further to enforce the Lord's Day Act, pending Mr. Jay's ruling on the prosecutions already launched. No names of stores which remained open yesterday were taken by the police. This is the first time for weeks that no names have been taken.

Acting Mayor John Harvey, temporary chairman of the Police Commission, said to-day that he would not ask for any more flats for Sunday prosecutions until the magisterial decision had been handed down. "We have plenty of cases in hand now and there is no use asking any more flats until we have made some progress," he said.

START WORK ON BIG PROGRAMME OF LEGISLATION

City Preparing Acts Which Would Make Radical Changes

Work on the most extensive legislative programme that Victoria has presented to the Provincial Legislature in the memory of present aldermen will commence to-day when the Civic Legislative Committee holds a special meeting for the purpose. Alderman E. S. Woodward, chairman of the committee, called this meeting this morning.

"We will get the matters which we intend to bring before the Legislature generally lined up to-day and then start in real earnest on them shortly," he said. The alderman intimated that the Finance Committee, which also is the Legislative Committee, would not go ahead with any big financial deals or bond transactions while one of its members, Alderman David Leeming, was absent from the city. At the same time, he added, the committee would not pass up any particularly advantageous bond offers.

The legislation which the city will ask the Provincial Legislature to pass this Fall, if approved, will effect drastic changes in many departments of the municipal government. In fact, it will give Victoria many of the advantages of a special charter such as that under which Vancouver is governed. Members of the Legislative Committee are considering the advisability of applying for a special charter.

SKYLARKS PERFORM WHILE NATURALISTS WATCH AND MARVEL

Naturalists are attending the evening skylark concerts and performances given by a flock of these birds nightly in a wheat field at the side of the Mount Tolmie car line, which runs north along Richmond Avenue.

These birds are descendants of those introduced from the Old Country in 1912.

Owing to the importance of the political situation in Ottawa it is doubtful if any member of House of Commons can attend, but A. W. Campbell, Commissioner of Highways of the Dominion Government, and J. B. Harkin, Commissioner of National Parks have arrived for the meeting.
